After the Dust Had Settled The School Year Began

Withstanding a variety of changes and setbacks, Dover High School began 1979-80 as a renovated, up-to-date school. The Guidance and High School offices were extensively remodeled; each now enjoys the luxuries of wall-to-wall carpet and refreshing new paint. The Attendance office was relocated, along with some of the Administration. Double-pane, cold-resistant, heat-retaining windows spruced up the appearance of the Fifth Street wing, and a new bell system was installed. As a result, the clocks failed to work. But then, neither did the bells! Our beloved cafeteria, relieved of those long anti-social tables, was equipped with intimate tables for four, sometimes five, but usually more! The bulky partitions dividing the cafeteria and library disappeared, replaced with a new yellow wall and a door that was never locked!!

Refurbished locker rooms, band shelters, new seats on the visitor's side, a resurfaced track, the repainted mighty "Tornadoes" sign, and the installation of new, glorious stadium lights completed the project at Crater Stadium. And so that you would be able to enjoy these improvements, directional signs designed by last year's Senior Rich Penix were posted around Dover for those who didn't already know the way.

"I Love the Nightlife . . ."

Nightlife. This year DHS students discovered that this held more than its traditional meaning. It meant late hours, calloused feet, grease burns up to your elbows, dishpan hands and catching five minutes of sleep during morning announcements. More than ever before, the Senior Class has entered the working world, gaining "on-the-job" experience and financial independence. Now can you understand why our A.C.T. tests were so low?

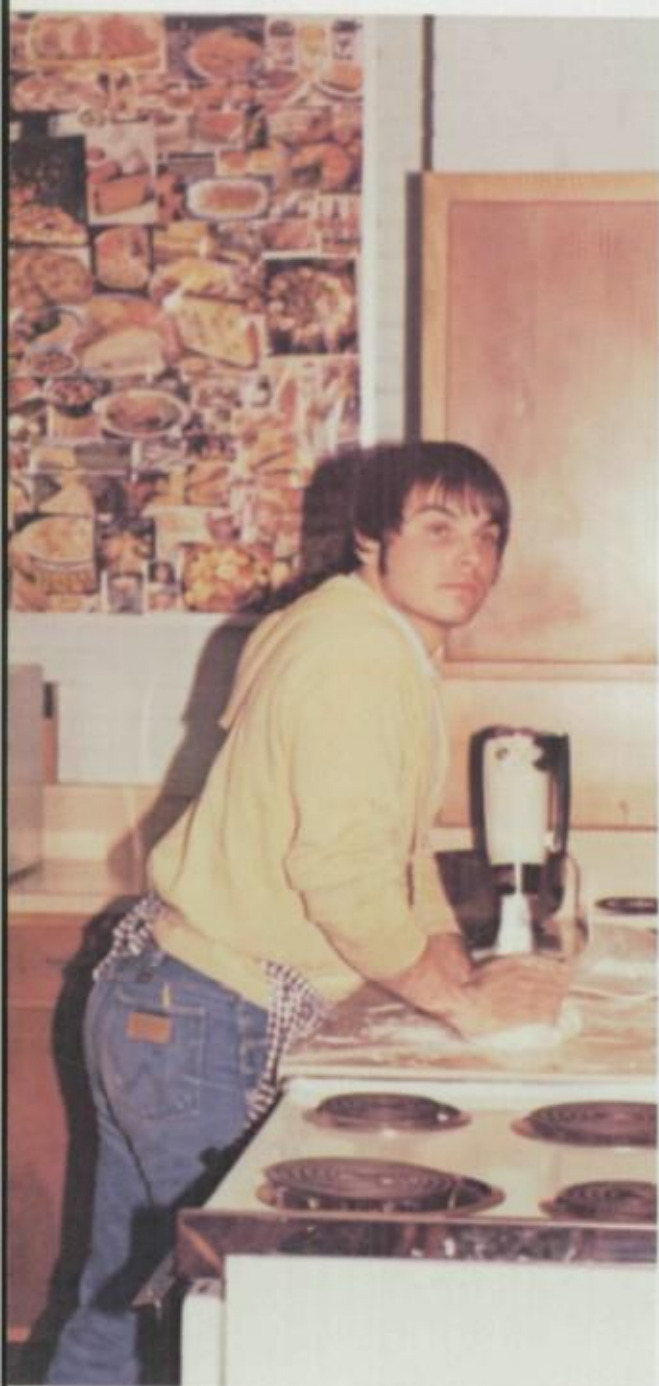

Coca-Cola

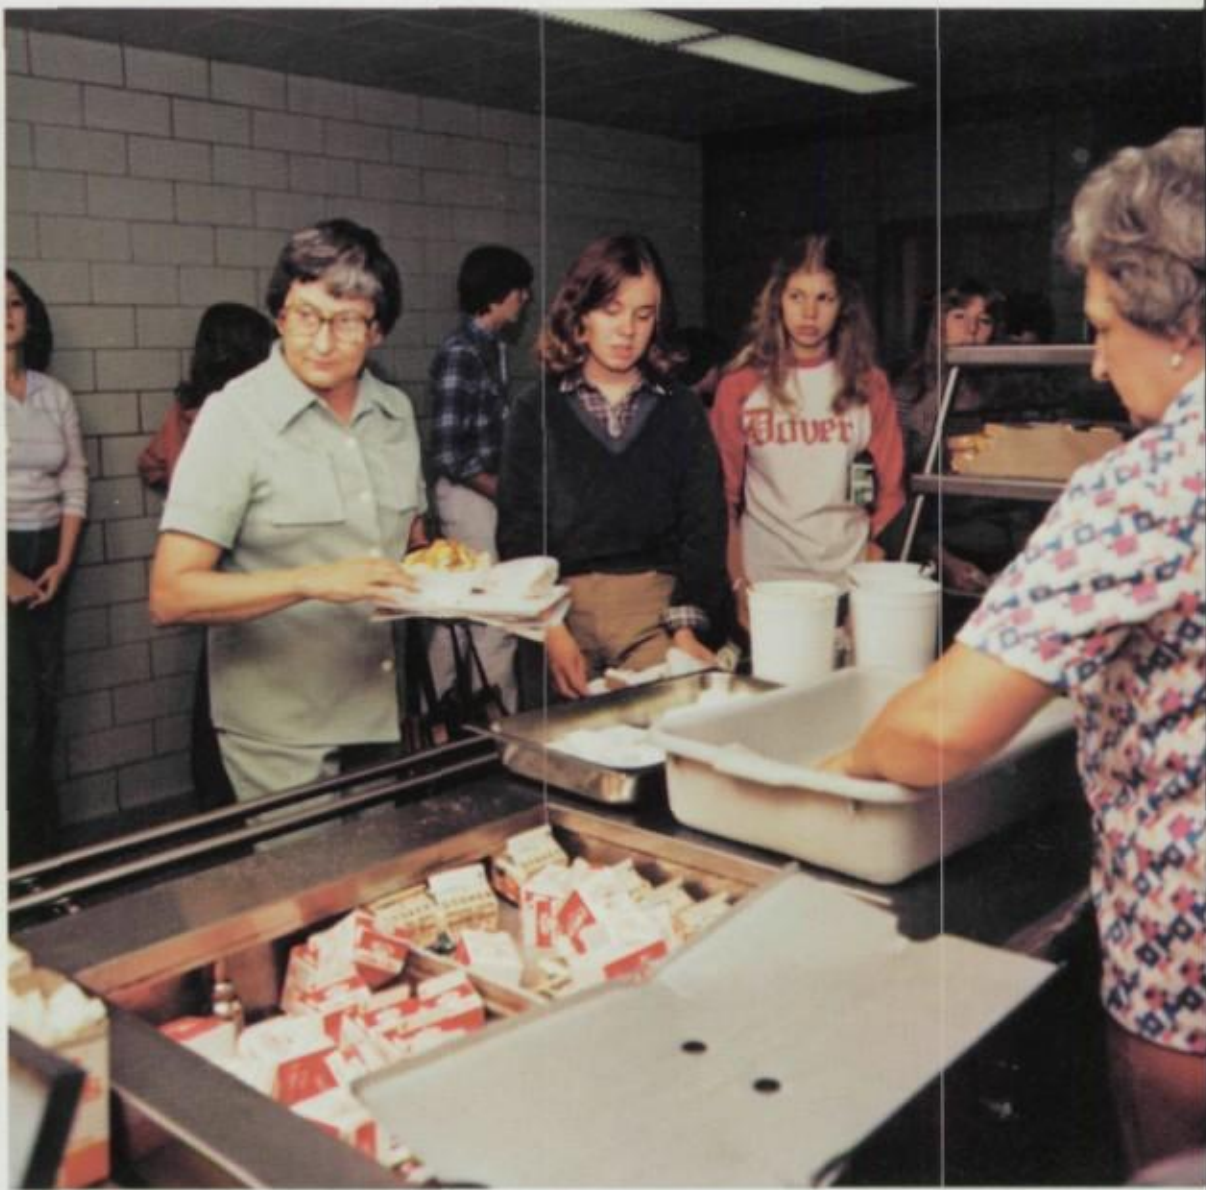

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

But at 7:50 A.M., We're Back at D.H.S.!

From one end of the school to another, we were always busy. At right, we see Robin, Becky, and Ron putting the finishing touches on their research papers. Below, Tim Bober is in deep concentration as he kneads his bread dough. At bottom right, Lori, Kris, and Mike observe the physical structure of a hamster in biology.

GRADUATION

"Pomp and Circumstance"

Pictured above are two of the six commencement speakers from the Class of 1980, Jennifer McCreery and Kris Miller. The student's speeches focused on reflections from their high school years, as well as thanking various members of the community. Terry Jones, President of the Dover School Board, addressed the class about the expectations and responsibilities that faced them in their new environment. Following this, the graduates received their diplomas.

VALEDICTORIANS: Eric Melvin Dessecker
 Robin Kay Doidge
 Jennifer Ann McCreery
 Kristen Renee Miller
 Molly Jo Miller
 SALUTATORIAN: Jeffrey Allen Maurer

WE MADE MOM AND DAD PROUD

Top left: Jamie thinks back on his past high school days.

Above: Our friends and relatives packed the stands to watch us graduate.

At right: Chris and Susan seem to be relieved that it's over.

Top: Mr. Delphia directs the band as they play the POMP and CIRCUMSTANCE for the 1980 grads.

Above left: After the tassles were turned, the hats and frisbees went sky high!

"Love at High Tide" 1980 Prom

The 1980 Jr.-Sr. prom featured the theme, "Love at High Tide". Once inside, couples were surrounded by noted bottles, treasure chests, rocks, and palm trees. A typical South Seas setting! And our own Mr. Daniels, along with his group, Daniels and Rinehart, gave us the music.

Above, this foursome stands behind their find, while the four at right keep a close guard on their newly found treasure.

Jacks of all Trades

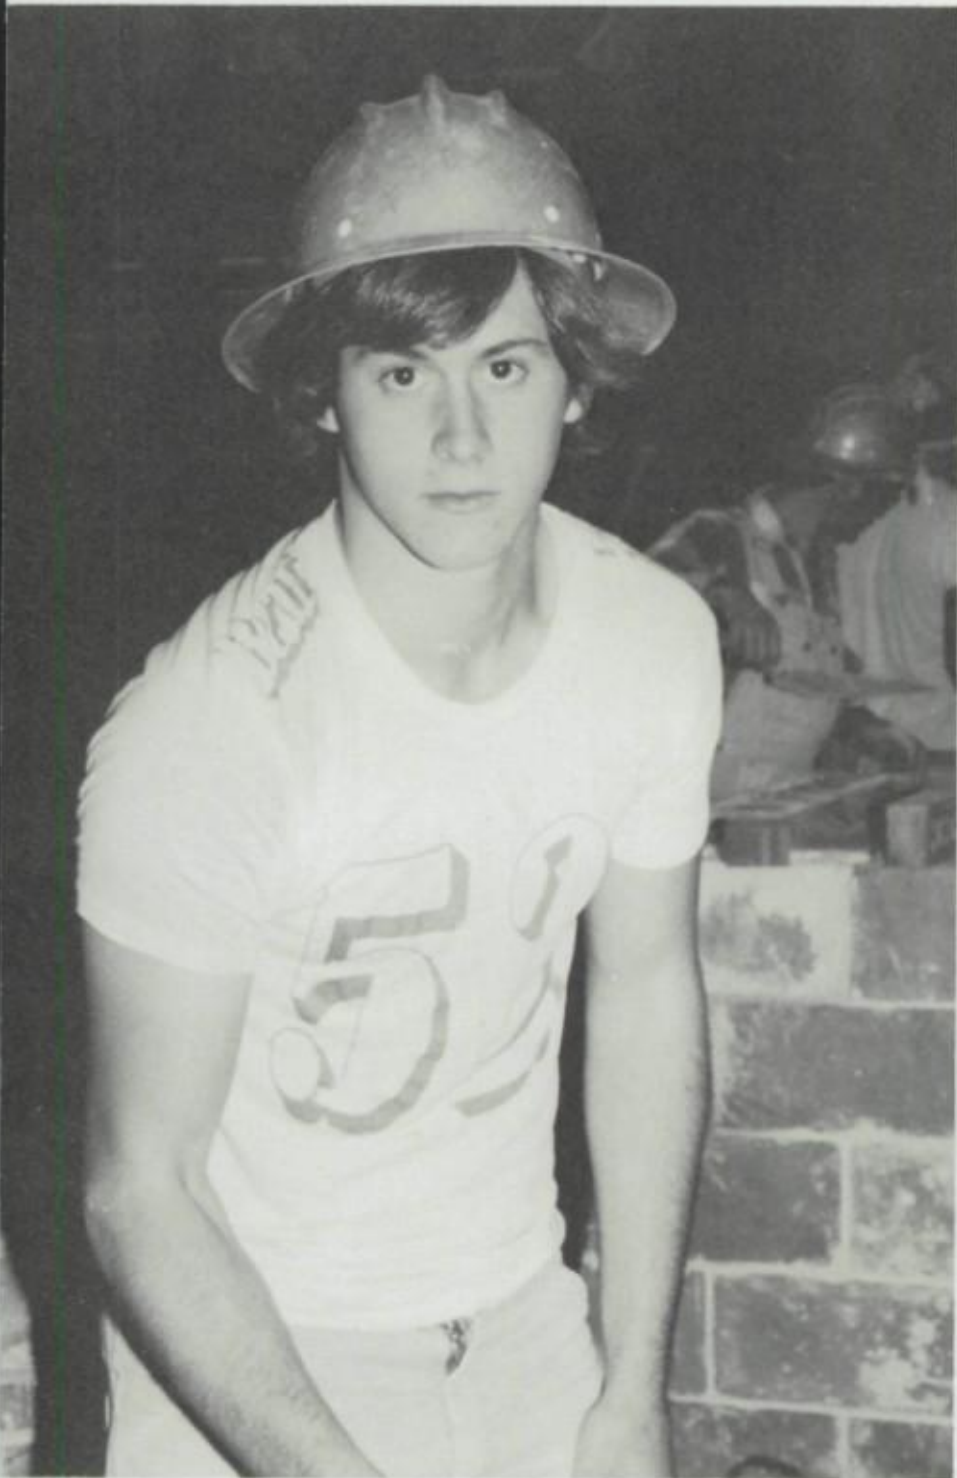

At BJVS Dover students can be found working on a wide variety of projects. Everyone put forth their best efforts to become tops in their particular fields.

 Bottom: Diane Newton used to fix her Barbie dolls like this when she was a pre-schooler.
 Below: Betty Crocker better watch out now that Tammie Krausie's in the kitchen!

THE BEST OF J.V.S.

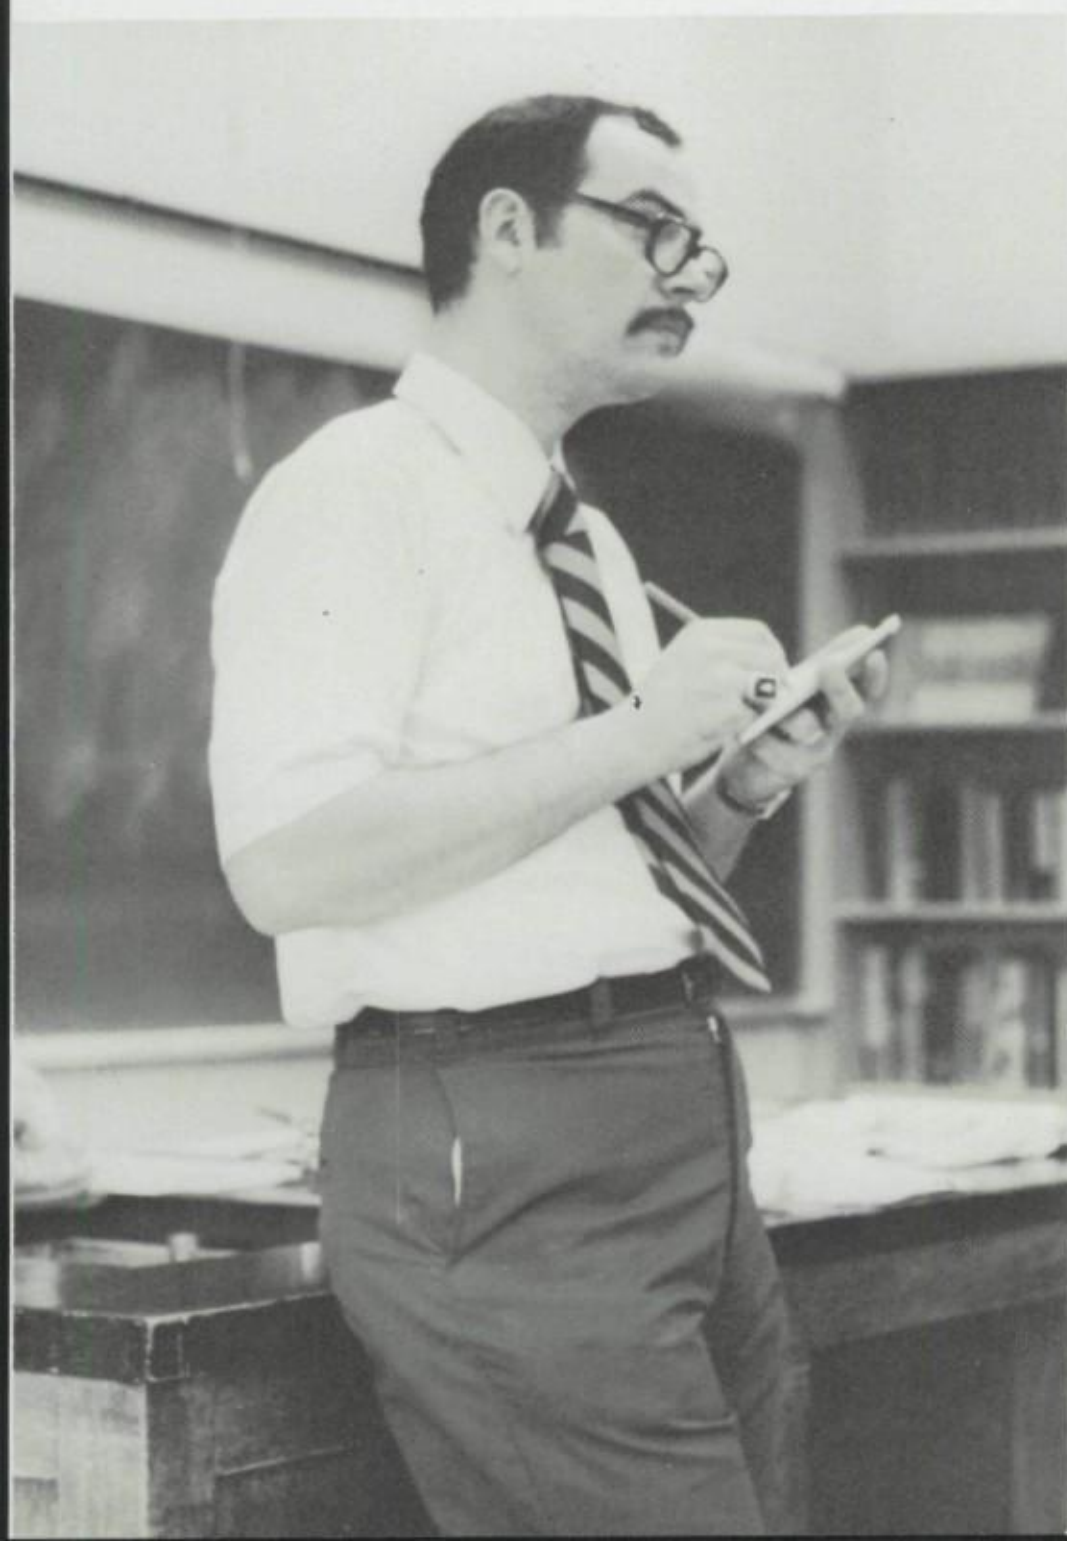

BJVS Masked Men

At bottom, we see an interesting lineup. (I wonder which one is Guilty?) Below, we find a typical JVS student at the end of a typical day. At right, there are two students who found that two years at JVS weren't enough and decided to sign up for the lifetime course. Or maybe these are just some Dover JVS students at the Halloween party?

FACULTY

The Administration

They Type the List Fantastic

Just think of the troubles our administrators would face without these staunch allies and their typewriters! At right we see Mrs. Cook, guidance secretary, and Mrs. Barr, Mrs. Contini and Mrs. Graef, Main Office and Attendance secretaries. Below are the ladies from across the street: Mrs. Varner, Mrs. Petricola, Mrs. Wallick, Mrs. Herman, and Mrs. Dalpiaz.

The Guiding Lights

The Guidance Department this year continued to be a great help to students, especially those who wished to be excused from class. Below left is Mr. Frye, who was a special help to sophomores on their way to BJVS. To his right, Mr. Denison, the school psychologist, inquires, "Would you like to talk about it?" Below, Mrs. Cook and Miss Canfield demonstrate how they get through their busy days.

New Teachers, Old Problems

The Madness Behind the Artistic Talent!

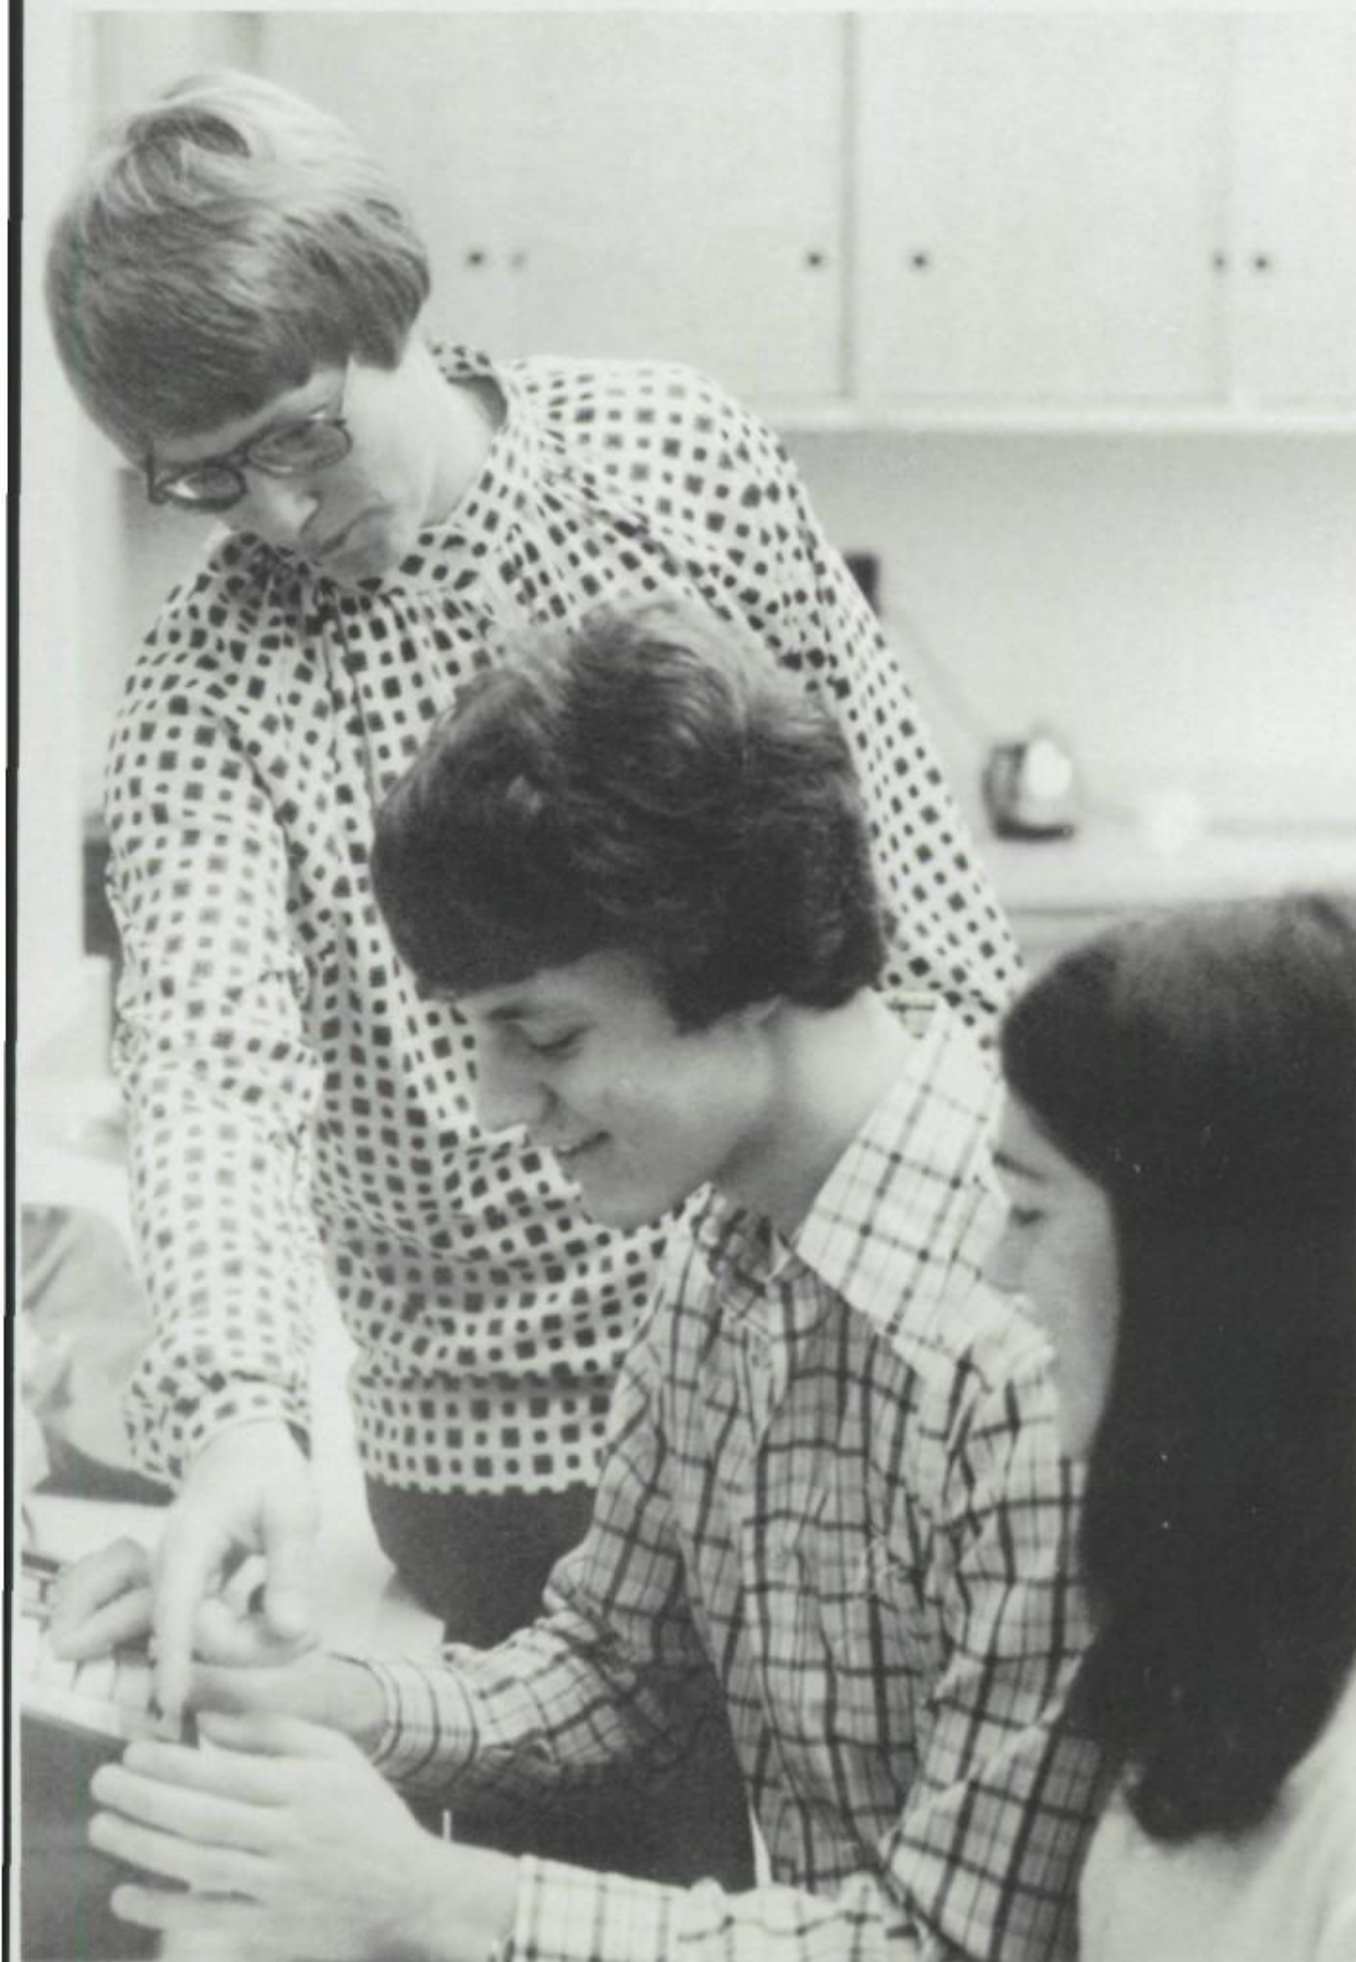

At left, Mr. Browning and Company take a break from a very tedious assignment. With Mr. B's and Miss Kennedy's guidance and encouragement, the disappointments, swelled heads, and nerve-wracking pointeltism assignments were made more endurable. In the left corner, Mesdemoiselles Fisher and Denison reach the pinnacle of their artistic ingenuity by creating the model student. He came into being when a jolt of Electric (Light Orchestra) surged through his earphones. And below depicts the genial, fun-loving side of Miss Kennedy.

At right: Mrs. Schupbach, our favorite Typing II, Shorthand, and Notehand teacher stands non-cha-lantly behind the desk. We really know that she is standing there to nudge the exhausted Mrs. Boich into giving a big smile since she is trying to recover from her 5th period Accounting I class. Below: Dave Johns, the camera shy guy, supposedly turns to a friend for help as Amy Marlowe peels out on the typewriter. Go Amy!

Taking Care of Business

Here we see another hard working business teacher, Miss Hardnick. She strives to teach her students as much as possible about business machines during the semester. Most students learn easily, but the exception is Eric Dessecker, who is having trouble learning how to turn on the machines.

The English Department —

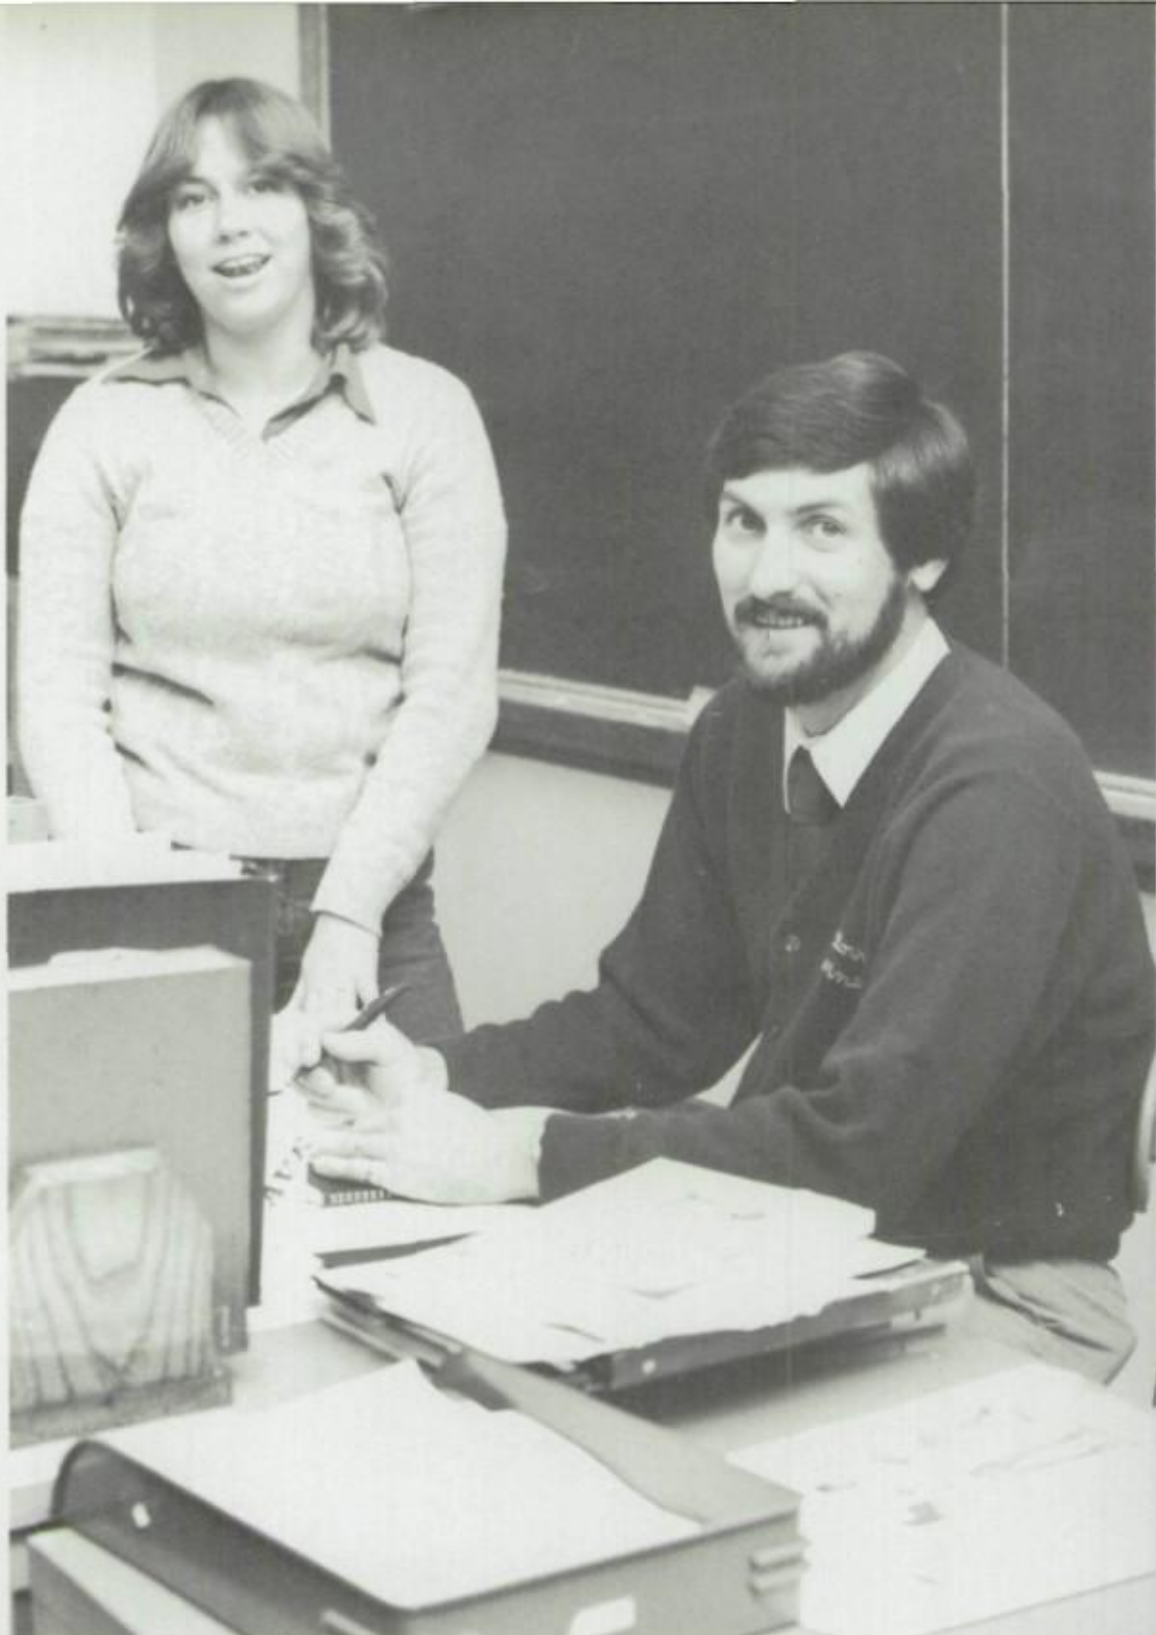

At the right we see a student who is speechless in the presence of the living legend, handsome Mr. Contini (or is that a myth?). Below, left, the fair Mrs. Mackey daydreams of her Romeo.

Circle the correct answer to describe the lady pictured at lower right:

Mrs. Pritchard can be found every day in

- a. the Reading Center
- b. a math classroom
- c. the chem lab
- d. none of the above.

If you chose a, you remembered that this page features the English department.

The Patterns Never Change

(as any Advanced Language student knows). At left:

Pattern 1: Miss Peeper and Mr. Buchanan pose.

Pattern 2: The two compose a picture.

Pattern 3: The teachers are Miss Peeper and Mr. Buchanan.

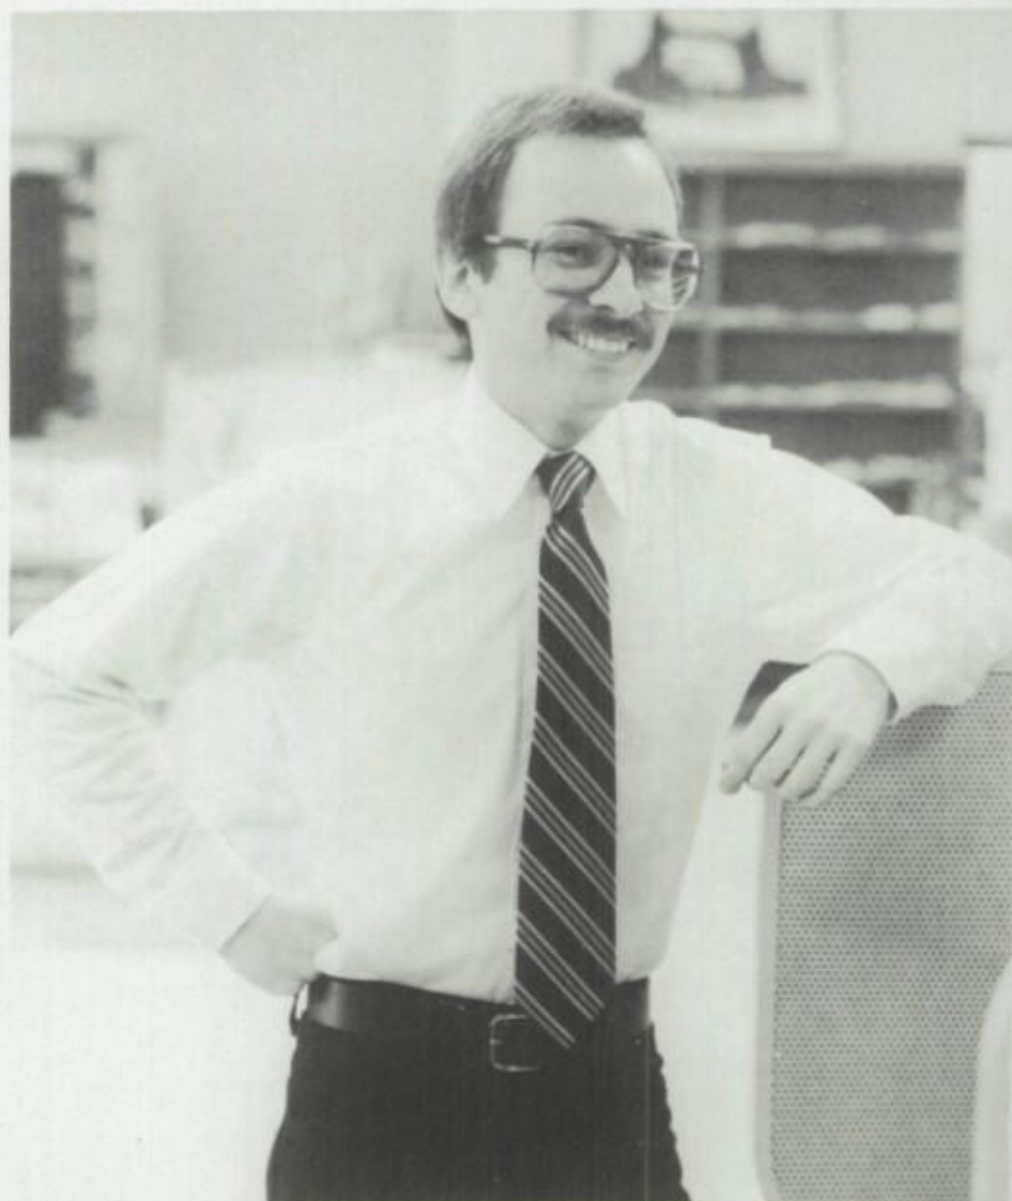

Pattern 4: The teachers are posing.

Pattern 5: These teachers give the students homework.

And finally, though it may be a bit difficult to see his expression, Department Chairman Floyd A. May poises, er, poses with interested Swirl Staff advisor, Mr. Johnston and two unknown Staffers.

JOIN THE FOREIGN LEGION

On the this page, bottom, Mrs. Koval shows that white cards can be used in warding off frenzied freshmen in Spanish class. Above, Mrs. Herz, German teacher, also assisted in the library this year.

On the facing page at the lower right, Miss Dean, dons a relaxed smile in her French class as she thinks of Mrs. Herz busily working in the library. To her left, Dale Kreisher thanks Mrs. Koval for the chance to listen to a captivating foreign language tape. Above them is Mr. Jenkins, who valiantly substituted for an injured Mrs. Herz for several weeks.

Bakin' It

How many quarts in a gallon???
How many teaspoons are in a tablespoon?
How many ounces are in a pound??
How many mililiters are in a liter??
If you would like to Know the answers to any of these questions, take the Home Ec. courses with Miss Miller or Miss Class.

At right: We see Miss Miller wondering who took her needle and thread.
At bottom left: Miss Miller shows Paula Hennis the proper way to follow the instructions to a pattern.
At bottom right: Miss Class shows Kim Albert and Beth McMann how to make a new diet soft drink.

Makin' It

“Speak
Softly
and Carry a Big Stick”

I'm sure "speak softly and carry a big stick" rings a bell to every junior and senior who has studied American history. Far left; Mr. Henry is gallantly re-enacting the dramatic statement made by Teddy Roosevelt.

At left, Mr. Swinderman says, "we can't drop a bomb in Iran and still be a democracy!"

Bottom left: Mr. Mowrey points out that Civics and wrestling are inter-related!

Below, we see Mr. Nixon in one of his "more casual" moments. Going through high school without taking Mr. Nixon for history is like ... well, we won't go into that!

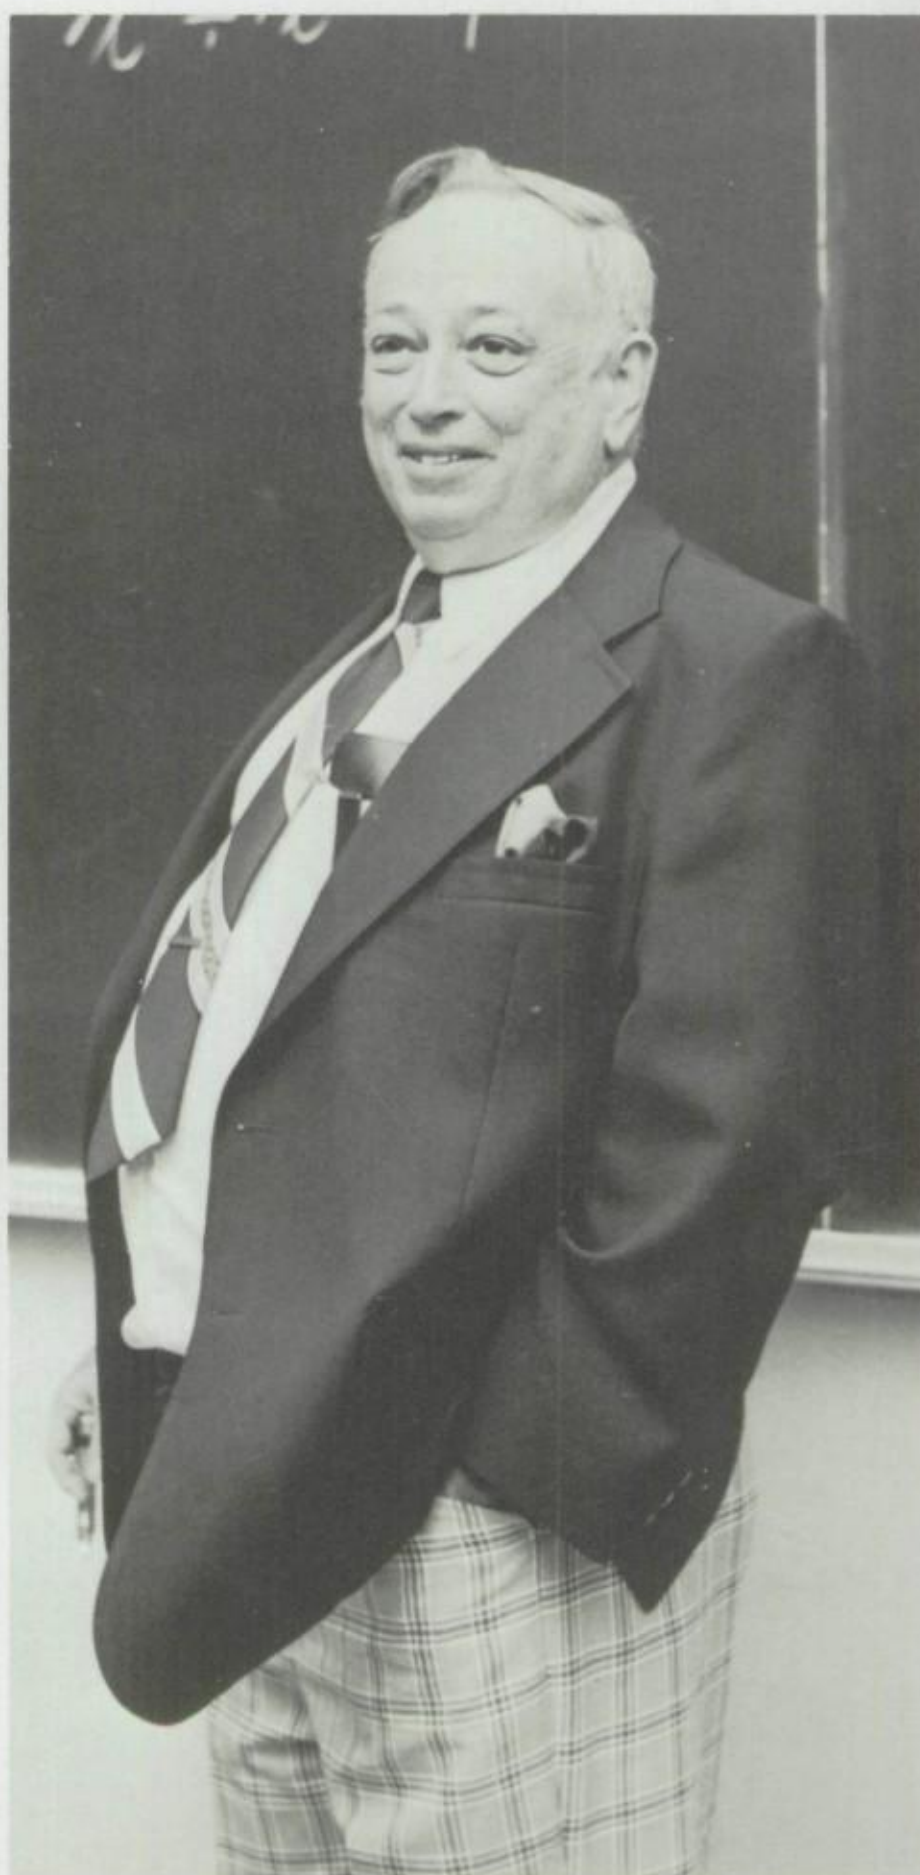

Some trivia questions that will boggle your mind are listed below, courtesy of Mr. Henry, Mr. Nixon and Mr. Swinderman. Contact them for the answers.

1. On Apollo 11, Armstrong and Aldrin were the first two to walk on the moon. There was a third astronaut who stayed in orbit around the moon. Who was it?
2. Who was the first man to climb Mt. Everest?
3. How many electoral votes does it take to win the presidential nomination?

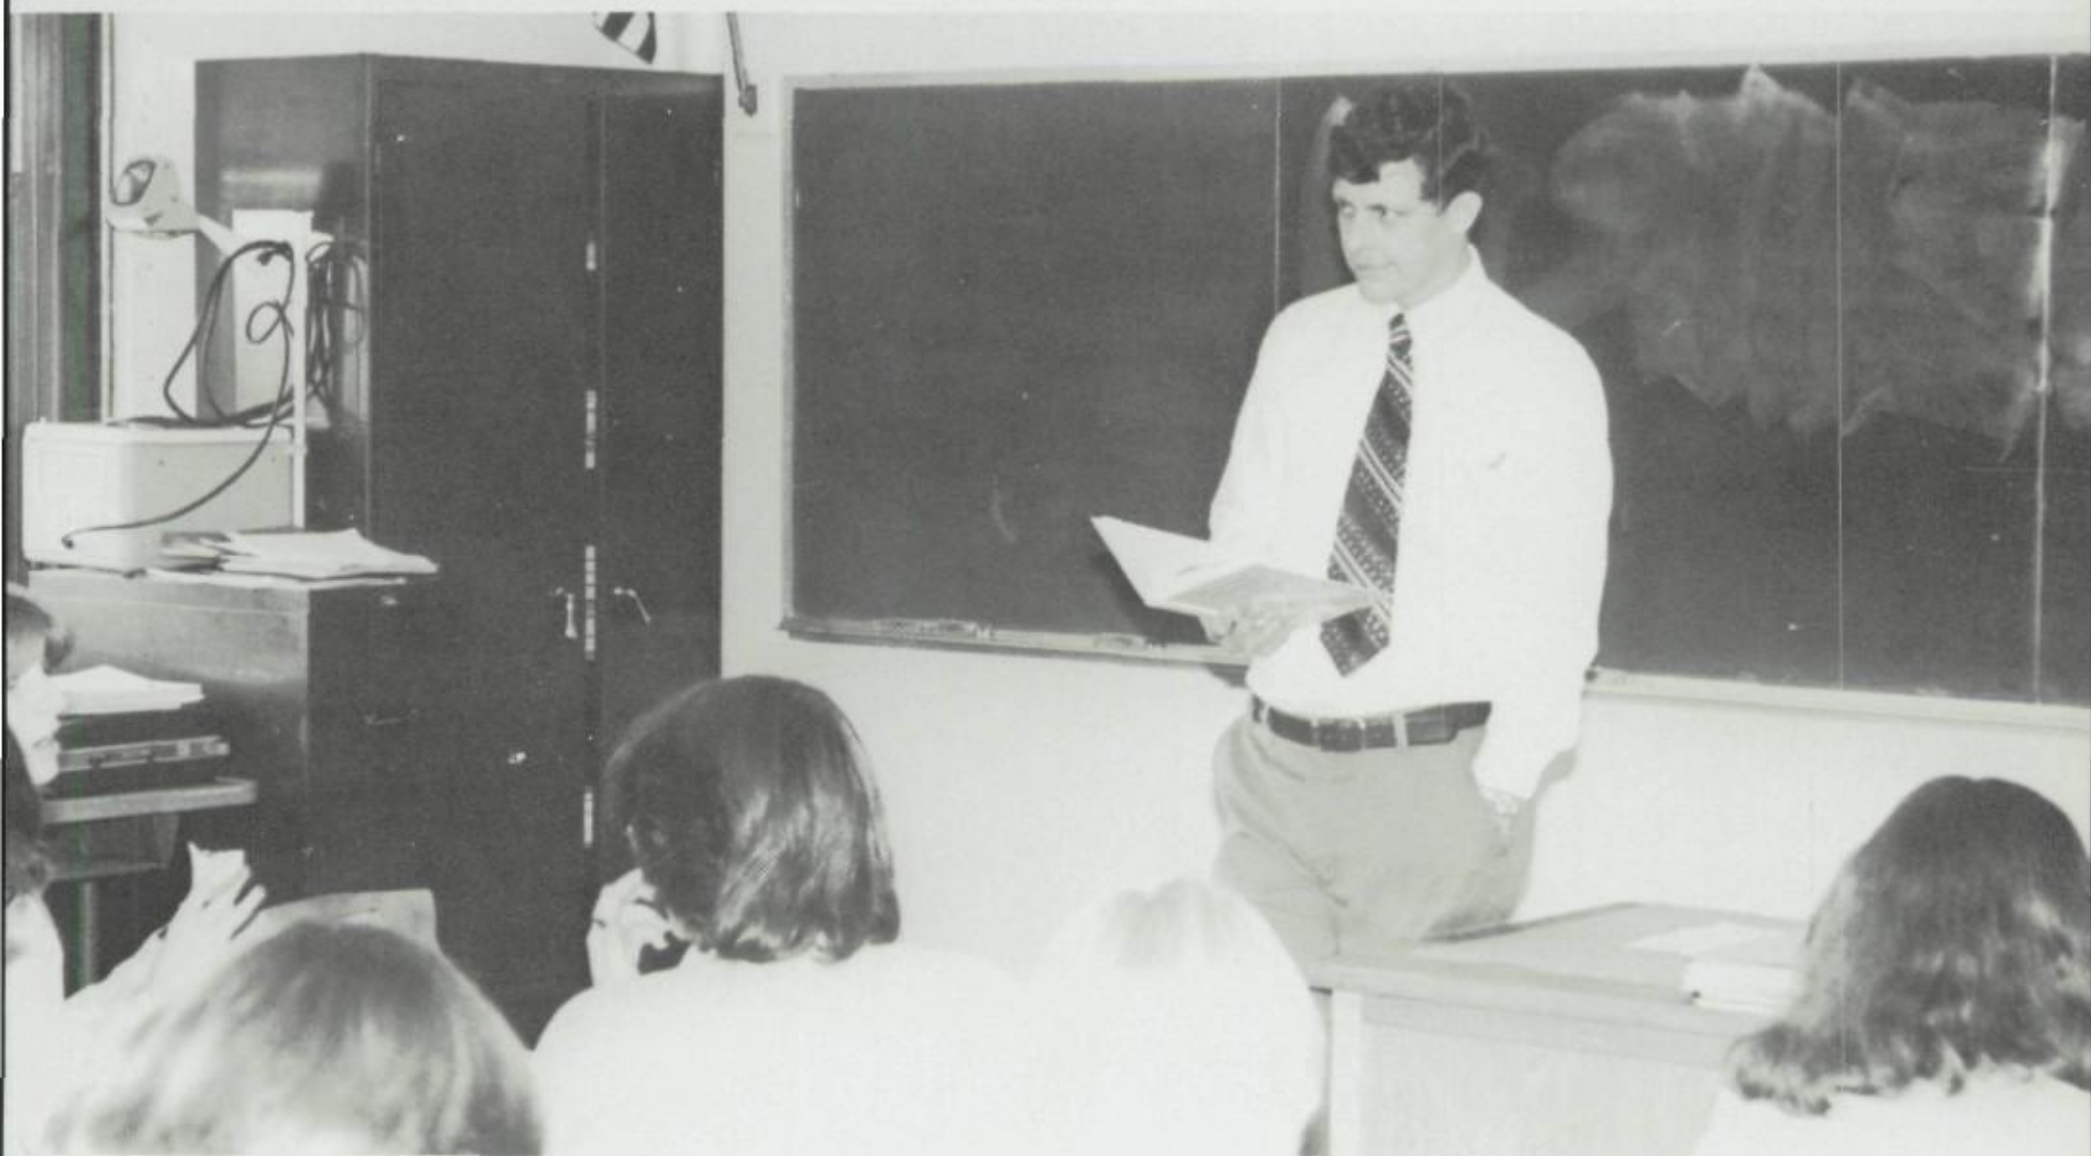

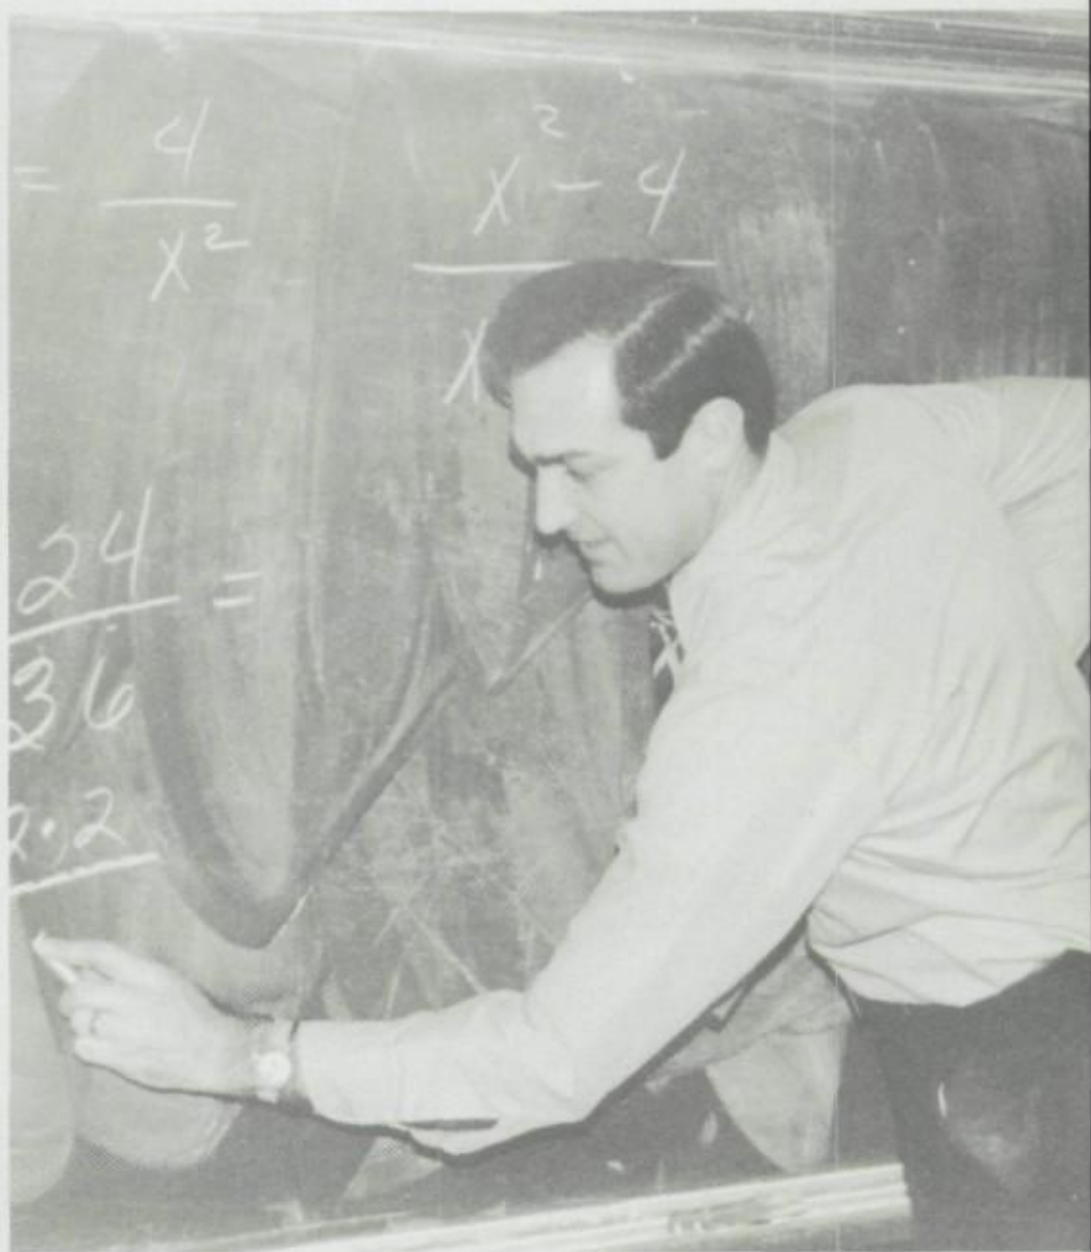

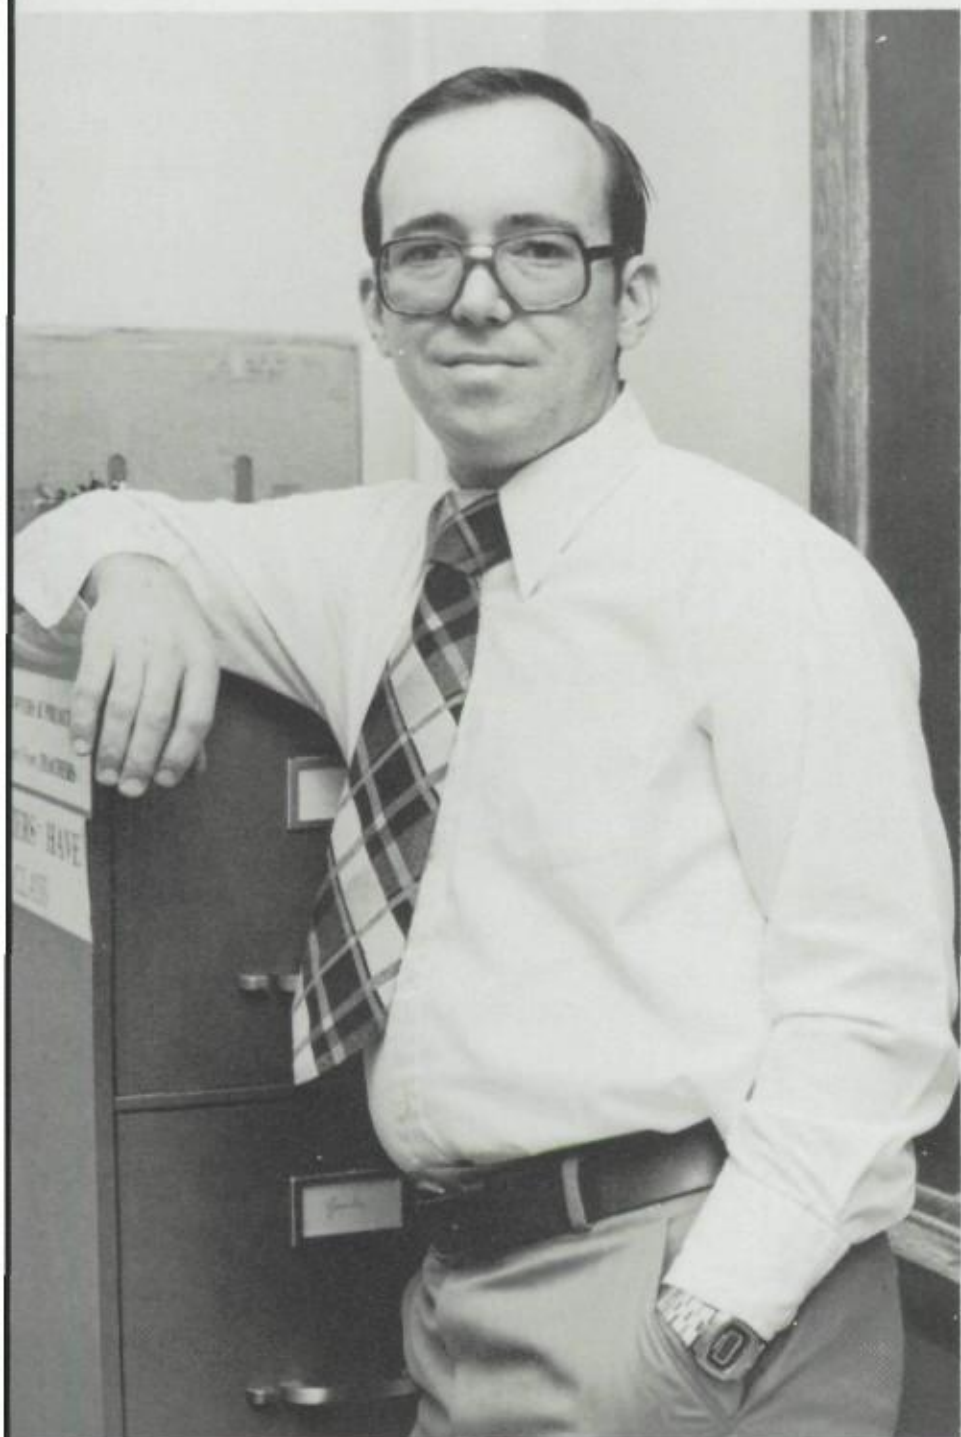

Math Teachers Are Rated X^2 !!!

Above is everyone's favorite, our lovable Mr. Wise, looking as congenial as ever. Beside him is, who else, but Mr. Padgitt, our Advanced Math teacher, with that never-ending smile of his. To bad his students aren't smiling!!!

Dover Music — Tuned Up

In addition to heading the music department, one of Mr. Delphia's many jobs was directing the Concert band. Heading the orchestra was the ever cheerful Mr. Gillaspie, who occasionally honored us with a word or two. A new addition to the choir this year was Miss Chris Baker, who was a student teacher last year and decided to return as a full-fledged faculty member.

At right, Mr. Goudy checks Mr. Gillaspie's neck size, while Mr. Delphia examines his suit. Below, David Barbee and Miss Baker go over some well-loved Christmas tunes.

For a Great Year

As well as directing the Marching band, Mr. Goudy assisted Mr. Lyon with the Red and Gray band. Meanwhile, Mr. Heck put the choir through their paces.

Heading Towards Health

To the right we have Mr. Meese and Ms. Vasbinder hard at work figuring out the day's plan. Some of the year's activities consisted of basketball, scooter relays, and volleyball.

Below, we see Barbie Maybaugh and an unknown passenger on the scooters.

Lab Report

A recent bulletin from the chemistry lab informs us that Dr. Schrader is near success with his Doomsday Device. He is shown at right concocting a potion to make his hair straight again.

On the opposite page, Mr. Lorson clarifies the mysteries of the universe to Tim Rehm and Jim Kilgore, both of whom appear to be very enlightened. Below them, Mrs. Sanders prepares one of her well-known orations against student employment. Directly below, the two biological wonders of DHS, Mr. Martin and Mr. Ferbrache, show their smiling faces.

Our Clean- Up Crew

As always our janitors or "clean up crew" were both friendly and efficient this year.

To the right is Albert Steely, Francis (Bud) Wisselgren, Robert Haas, and Blaine Shively.

Head custodian Don Wallick, Dorothy Lewis, Edgar Gotshall, John McKittrick, Geneva Geib, and Norman Wood were not present for the pictures.

DHS Betty Crockers

Standing; Margaret Osburn, Carol Murphy, Gloria Cooper, Betty Everett, Margaret Burtcher, Cora Menapace, Carol Freshwater, Catherine Meryo, and Susan Renner.

Seated; Doris Amicone, Ethel Rennels, Evelyn Mills, and Viola Mason.

They Got Us Here On Time!

The DHS bus drivers have a very important job here at the school. They take us to all of our basketball, football, and baseball games. They take us to track meets and take us on all of our field trips. They are an asset here at DHS! At right we find Mike Dickens anxiously boarding the bus for school.

THIS IS

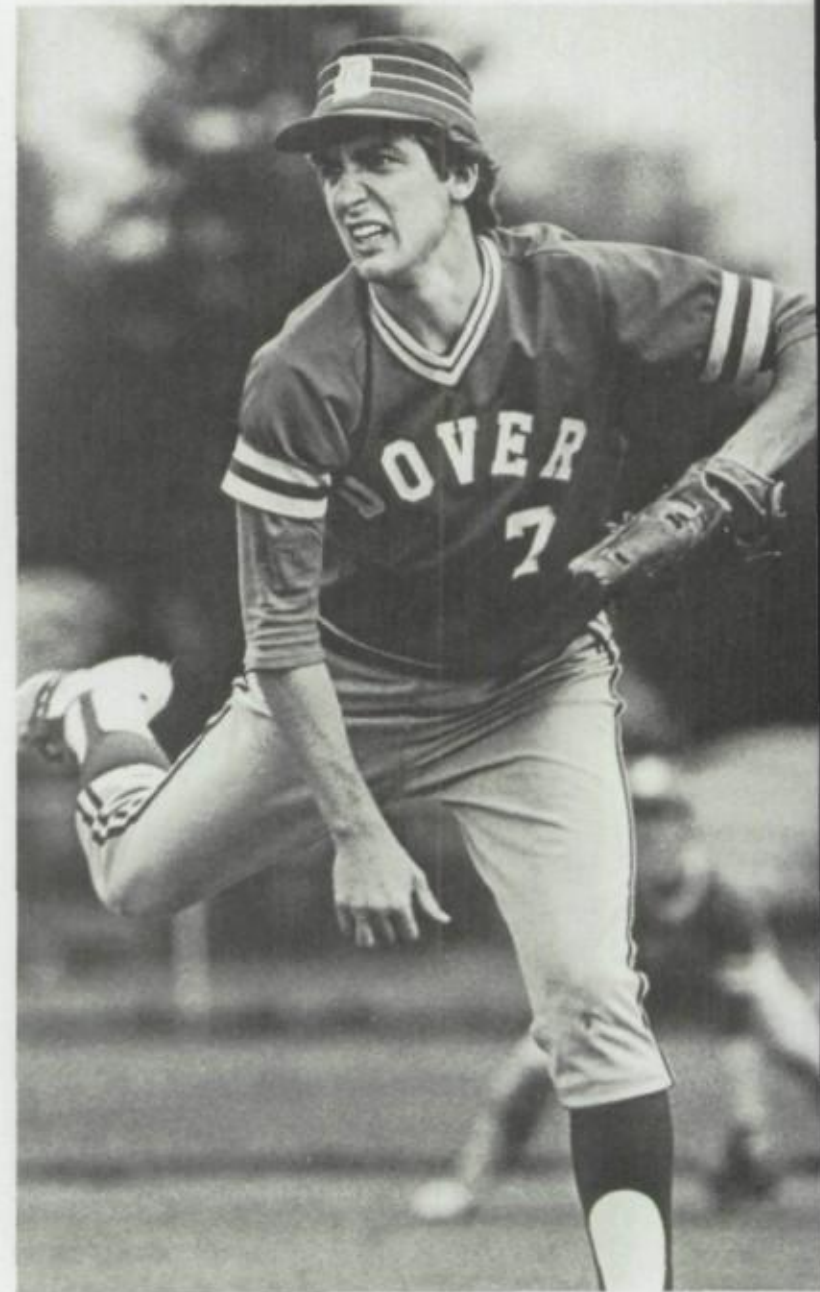

TORNADO COUNTRY!

Batter Up!

Dover's Baseball team was led by Jamie Devore, Ron Wills, and Jeff Froman. Jamie was the team's most valuable player, a four-year letterman, and member of Ohio's All-Star team. He also was Cardinal Conference. Ron led the team in hitting with a .428 average, and he was All-Conference. Jeff Froman shared the MVP and was honorable mention on the All-Conference team. The team was very inconsistent and played some very good games but also some poor ones.

Tornadoes Headed By New Coach

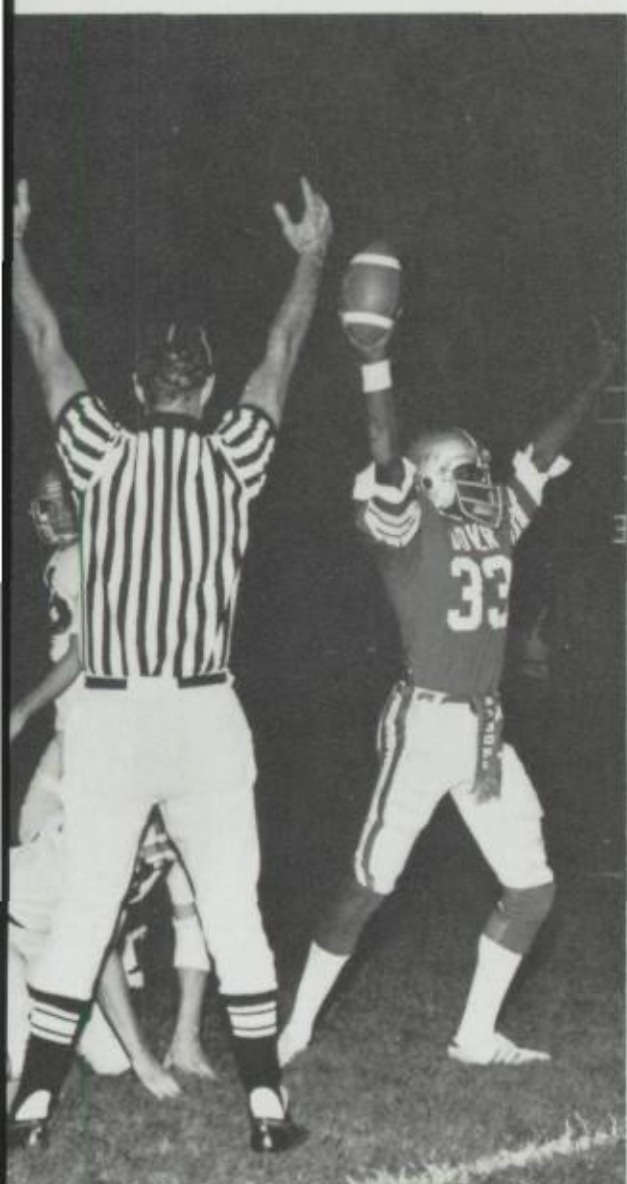

Below we actually have a coach with two identities. Luckily we didn't find out about this too soon, or we probably would have had second thoughts about him. No, actually coach Joel Cockley has done a remarkable job with the mighty Dover Tornadoes!! He lead us to a perfect 10-0 season! He also led us to a well deserved victory over PHILA!! Coach Cockley was a terrific sport the entire season. Congratulations to the other coaches for a terrific season also. Good luck next year.

10-0 CC Champs Say "Later!"

The Tornadoes said "later" to New Phila after our tremendous victory over the ducks. We also were 4th in the A.P. ratings, and Cardinal Conference Champs! Below, the refs signal that the mighty Tornadoes put another 7-Up! Below are the Junior Squad: (top) B. Johnson, R. Zuercher, T. Espenschied, C. Weiss, S. Truchly, S. Heller, (Middle), S. White, S. Degen, J. Morris, R. Corbett, J. Deeds. (Bottom) T. Fox, K. Pongrat, T. Altier, M. Zuchengo, M. Chumney. Bottom — Robbie Woods puts on the moves.

There is something seriously wrong with the video tape players at Dover High School these days. They're not showing anything in wrestling except reruns of the last three or four years. There's the MOW, Peanut and Dynamite Dean thrashing on people again! Is it 1977, 1978 or 1979 — maybe 1980? Who's the slick Black kid? Is it Mark or James? The HAMMER in the middle isn't the SAF or old Jim Bob — they graduated. That long, lean and mean legman can't be SUDS and he's too blonde for P.T. It's tough Todd Young so it must be 1979 or is it 1980? Strange how class seems to blend until it all looks the same!

The Tornado Grapplers were awesome again this campaign — racking up their third undefeated season in a row, running their dual match winning streak to forty-nine and generally making a shambles out of the competition along the tournament trail. The opposition stalled, they ran, they did everything except hide, but there was no escape. Nobody actually came close except the “boys across the river” — and they weren't close enough as their finest team ever was nipped 20-27 in an exciting grand finale!

Incomparable Chris Mowrey led the charge — as he always has — rewriting the record book as he went. Among his sundry accomplishments were a 108-8-2 career slate, unbeaten in dual meets at 57-0-2 and a school standard for any sport of nineteen medals including thirteen championships. The two-time captain earned his second MVP for overall contribution to the wrestling program. Number three all-time wrestler, Dean Telle, was named the Most Improved. Junior Brian Burrell won the coveted Top Dog Trophy for the most regular season pins and Dan Sweitzer captured the Coach's Trophy for individual effort and sacrifices this year. Gary Petrullo, number six on the all time list, James Black and Burrell logged unbeaten dual meet records and received plaques along with Mowrey for that feat. Super sub Dave Korn, Burrell and fiery Mark Crow were elected tri-captains for next year.

Real Tornadoes!

The same athletes — as well as Young, Billy Gilmore and Gus Griesen — sparkled during the second or tournament campaign. Mowery, Telle and Black capped the outstanding effort by winning trips to State. James tied Scott Condo's fourth place as Dover's best finish ever on a second trip to the BIG MEET — a remarkable feat, all factors considered.

The Seniors — with 53 wins out of 54 tries, four invitational championships, two conference titles and two runnersup, four sectional and four district crowns and thirteen men to State — could be acknowledged as MOWERY'S MIGHTIEST MAULERS of them all, but —

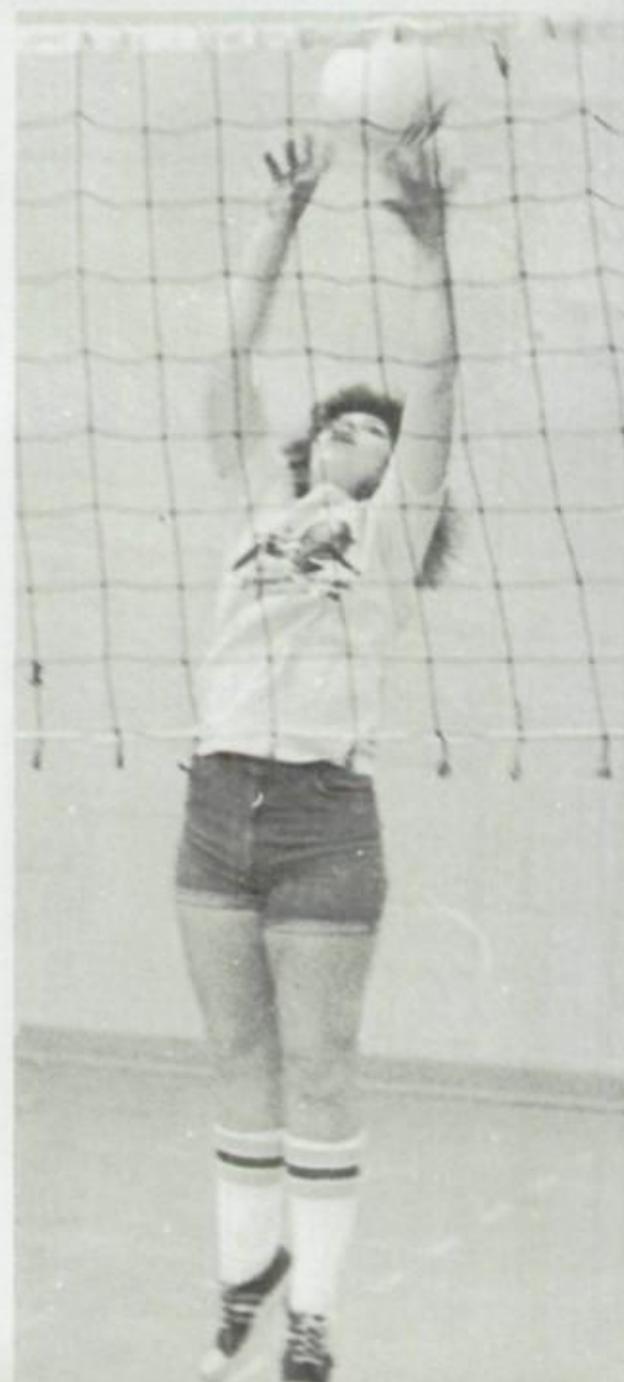

The "ZOO" is through — finally beaten by Baccalaureate when nothing else could. The age old challenge remains — can those that follow top or even match the achievements of this season's great team? Is there enough perseverance, dedication and willingness to work to create another-new but equally as effective — menagerie? The talent is there — but only time, circumstances and desire can fulfill its promise.

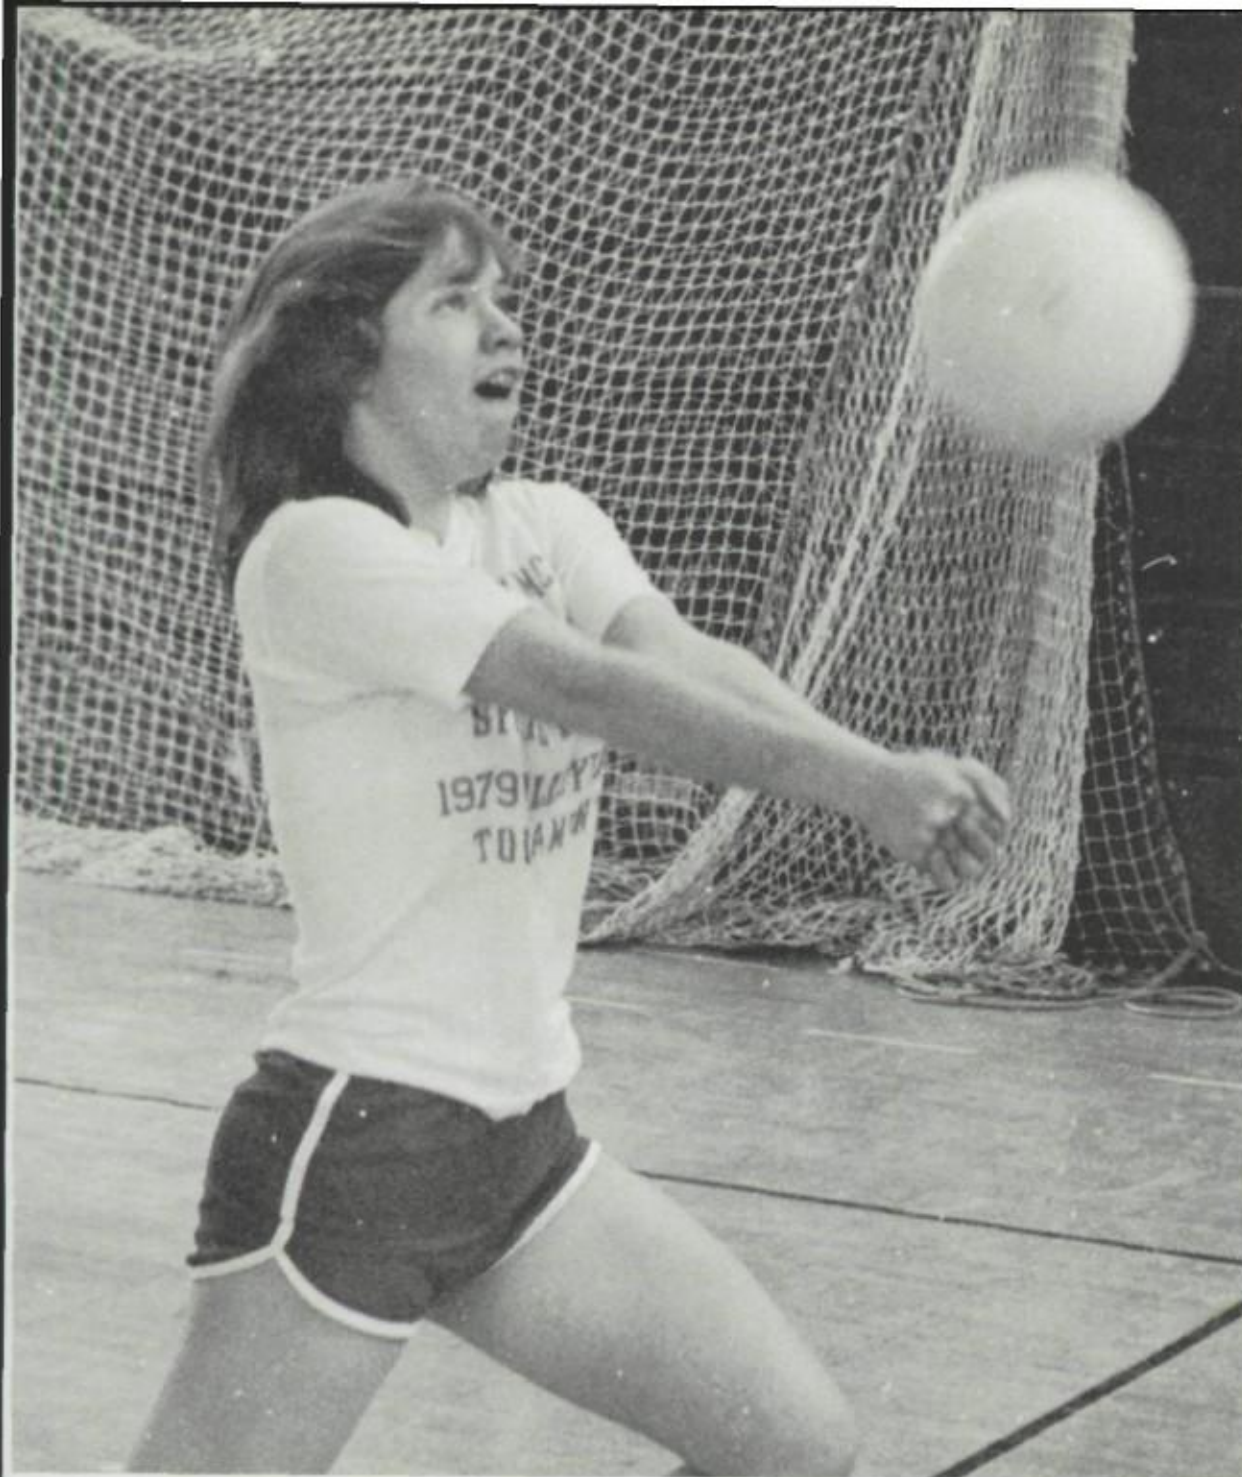

Up, Up ... and Over!

Dover Roundball Goes 12-10

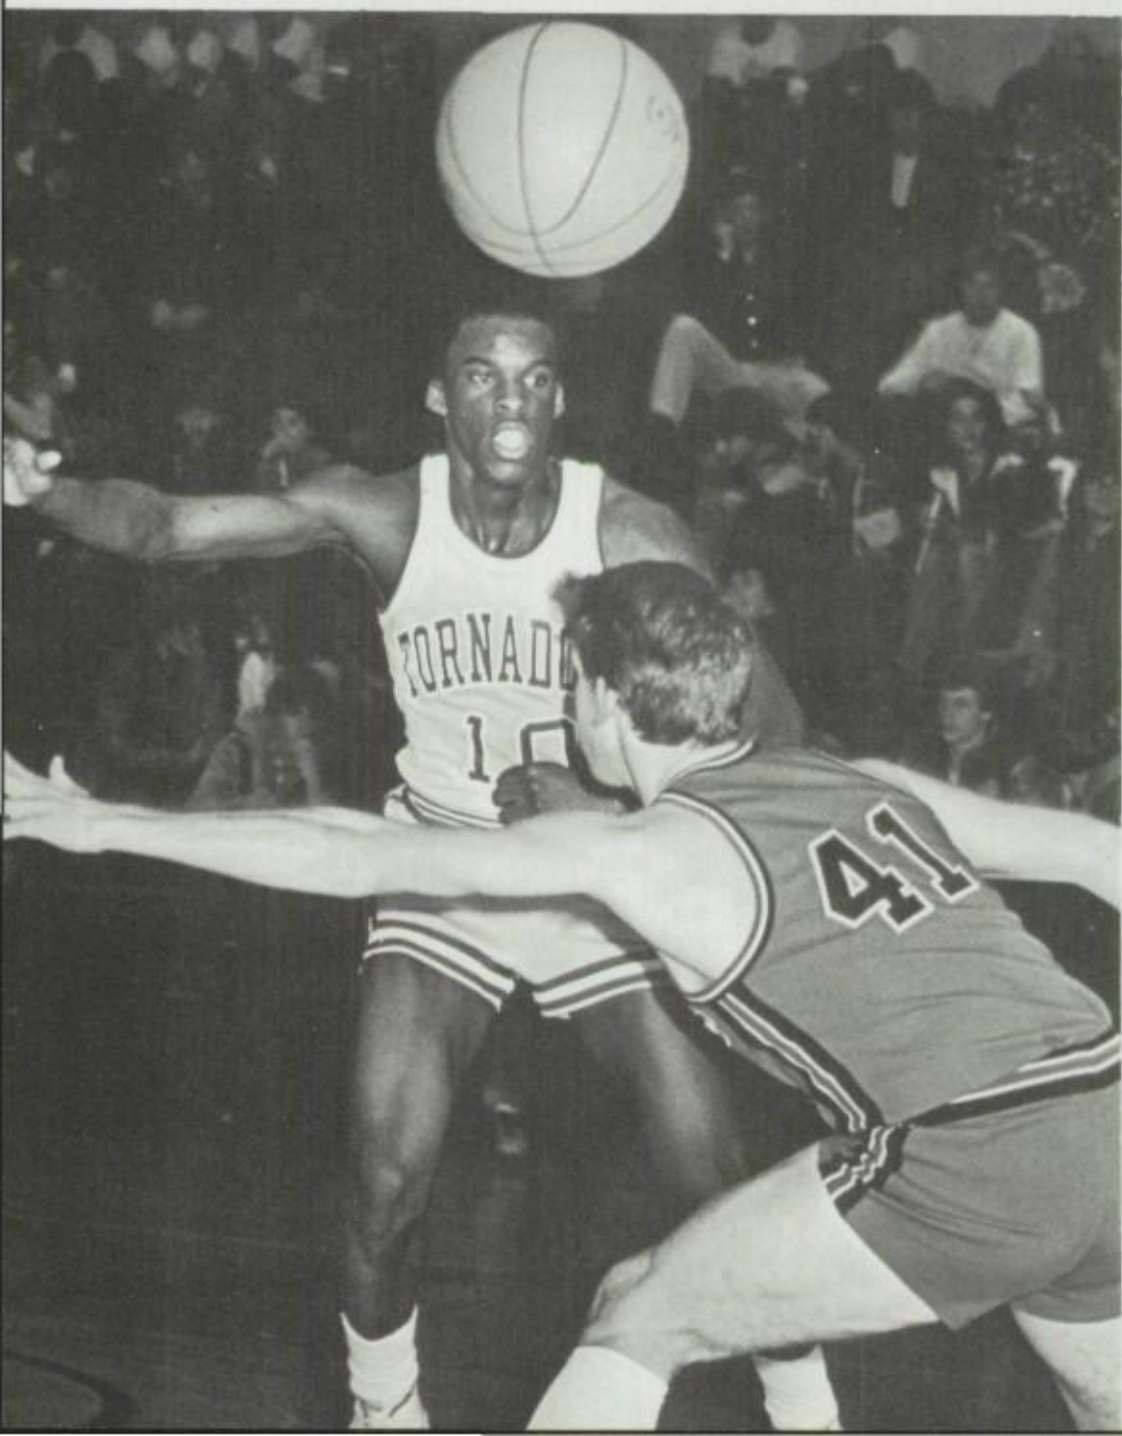

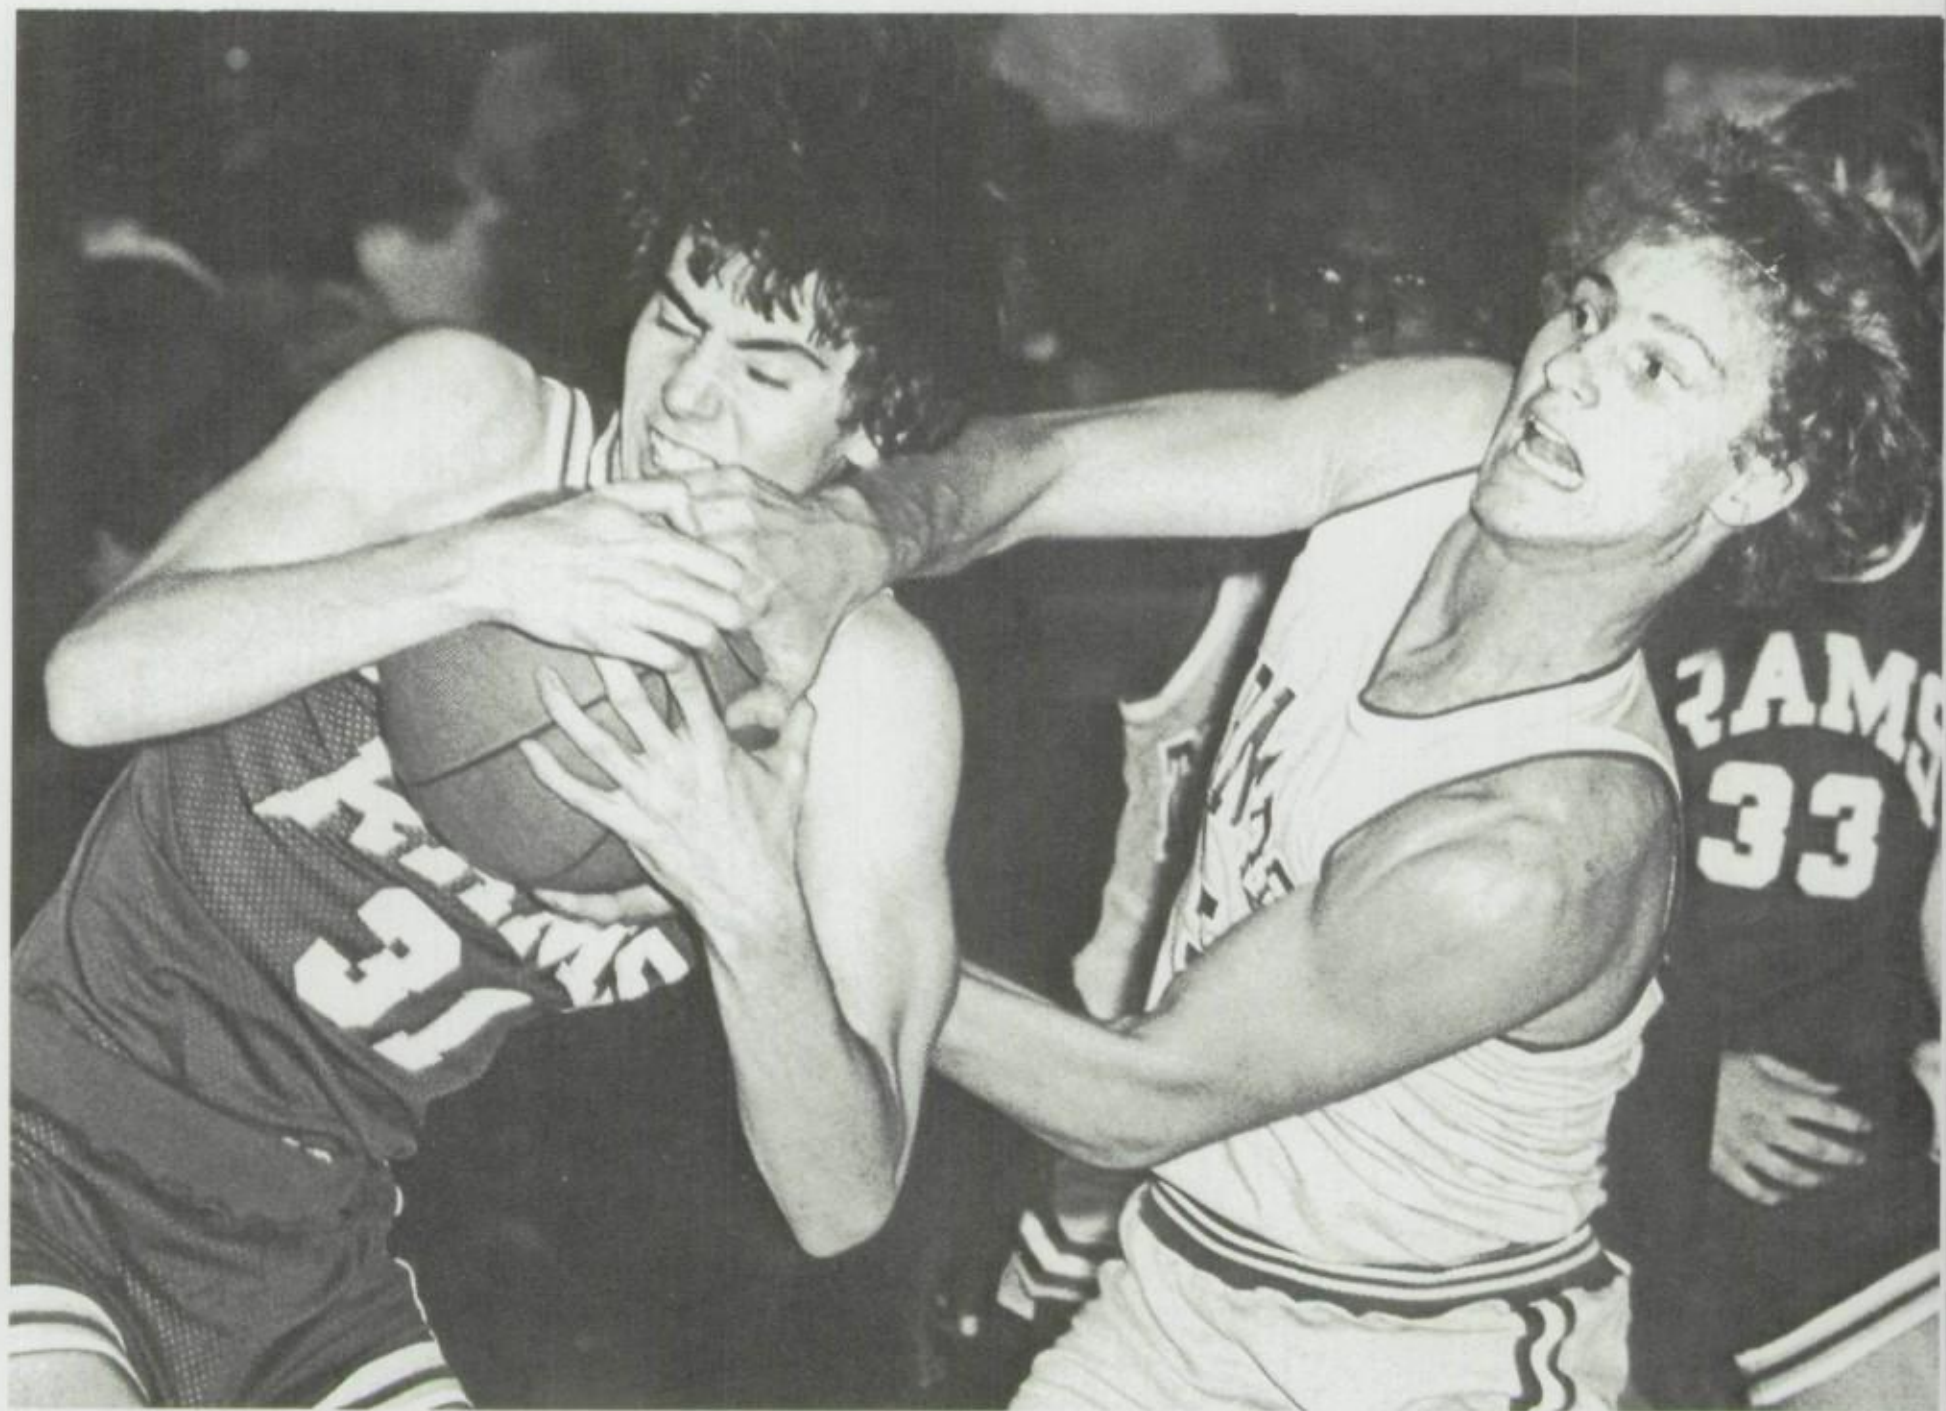

This year's basketball team had a very fine season, going 12-9 to finish fourth in the Cardinal Conference. Tournament action saw the Tornados defeat East Liverpool 63-45.

Leading the assault for the team this year was Senior Ron Wills. Ron was voted first team Cardinal Conference, first team Eastern District, and was named Special Mention All-Ohio. He was elected to play in the North-South All-Star game, the Eastern District All-Star game, as well as being chosen for the McDonald's All-American Basketball team. Another team leader, Robbie Woods, was elected to play in the Eastern District All-Star game, and was named second team Cardinal Conference and Honorable Mention All-Ohio. Much credit is due to these athletes and Coach Andreas for a productive, team-oriented season.

Advantage Dover!

The boys' tennis team, coached by Scott Ebert, broke some long standing records this year. The team's 9-10 record was the best since 1975. Dover finished third in the Cardinal Conference, the best finish ever by the boys' team. Another first this year was the Sectional championship that Dover won outright over five other teams participating.

The team was led by co-captain Andy Spies, who set a new school record at #1 singles with a 13-6 record for the season. Andy, a senior, was also voted M.V.P. and had the most wins along with qualifying for the District championships. Also helping the Tornadoes at singles were co-captain Dale Kreisher, a junior — first alternate at the Districts and voted Most Improved for the year and Senior Earl Clark — Coach's Award Winner. The doubles team of Cal Hunter and Barry White were one win short of best record, and they were sectional runners-up. Both qualified with Andy at the Districts. Other Varsity lettermen include Dale Woods, Jim Lanza, and Ron Smith.

The Racquettes

The Dover Girls' Tennis team compiled the most wins ever in dual meets with a 14-7 record. The team was led by Senior Molly Miller with a remarkable 23-1 dual meet and 25-3 over-all mark. She was voted MVP for the third time.

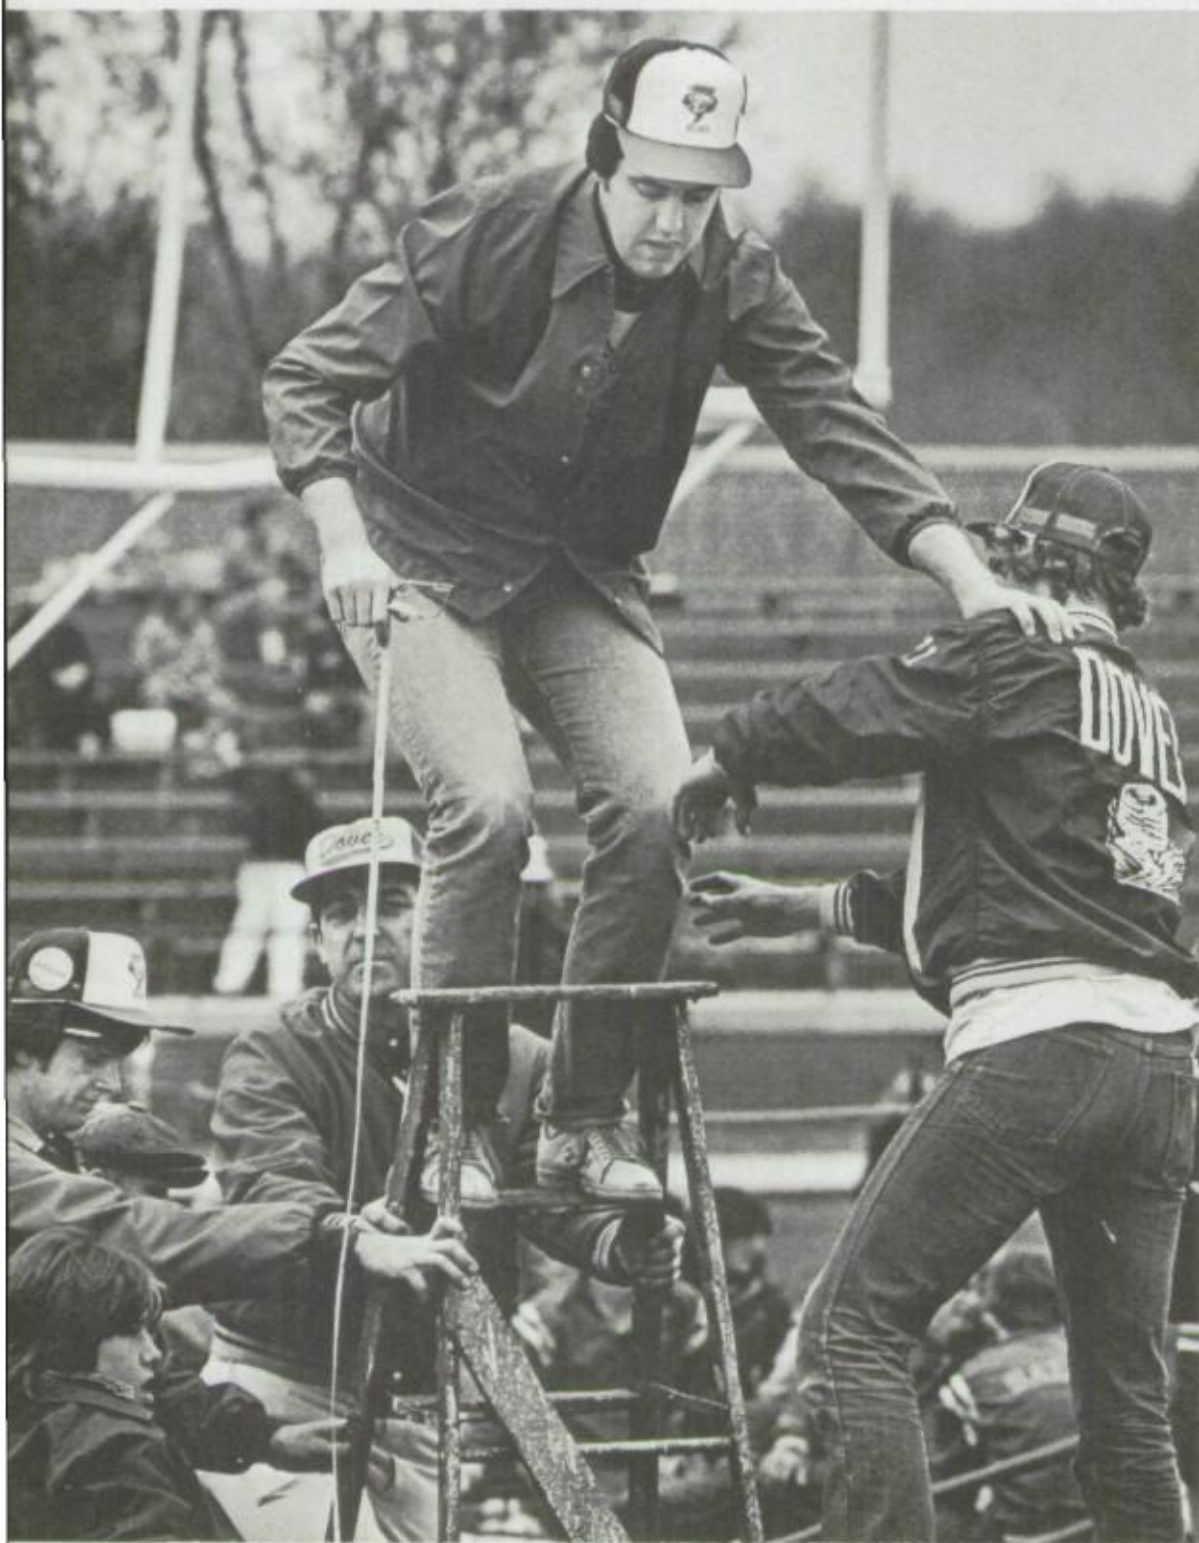

Kris Miller received the career award for 68 victories in her varsity career, a mark that Coach Schrader feels may never be broken.

The "D" award for dedication, desire, and decorum was shared by Molly Miller, Kris Miller, and Ann Davidson, an award voted by their teammates.

The Dover girls were also Sectional Champions with Molly Miller, Kris Miller, Ann Davidson, Mandy Spies, and Katies Spies, all qualifying for the Districts. Other players who earned varsity letters were Senior Lauren Hunter and Juniors Lisa Clark and Vicki Luthy.

Tornado Relays

The 1980 edition of the Tornado Relays was held on Saturday, April 20th on the new 400 meter crushed limestone track at Dover's Crater Stadium. Thirty-eight teams participated with nearly 1000 athletes taking part in the field and running events. It was organized by our own Mr. Price.

An impressive parade of athletes marched down the middle of the football field to the cheers of the spectators. A new Tornado Relays flag was hoisted onto the flagpole and several new features at the stadium made for a most picturesque setting.

The boys class AAA division was won by defending champion St. Thomas Aquinas. The girls open division was won by Louisville High School. Dover boys and girls teams finished seventh and thirteenth respectively in their divisions.

The outstanding athlete of the meet award was presented to Fairless distance ace, Joel Marchand, who ran the mile, half mile, and two mile races, shattering the record in both the mile and two mile. Outstanding for Dover was James Black's leap in the long jump of 21' 11¼" just missing the Tornado Relays record.

GREAT DOVER BAND

Dover Band Does It ...

Yes, the Dover Band did do it "one more time". We were all dazzled by their flashy performances yet another year. Above, our ten majorettes are all smiling and ready to give us one of their terrific shows. In front is Sally Zifer, followed by Lisa Umpleby and Lauri Plunk. Still swaggering and swaying off the field after a most strenuous pre-game is Jane Luthy, to the right.

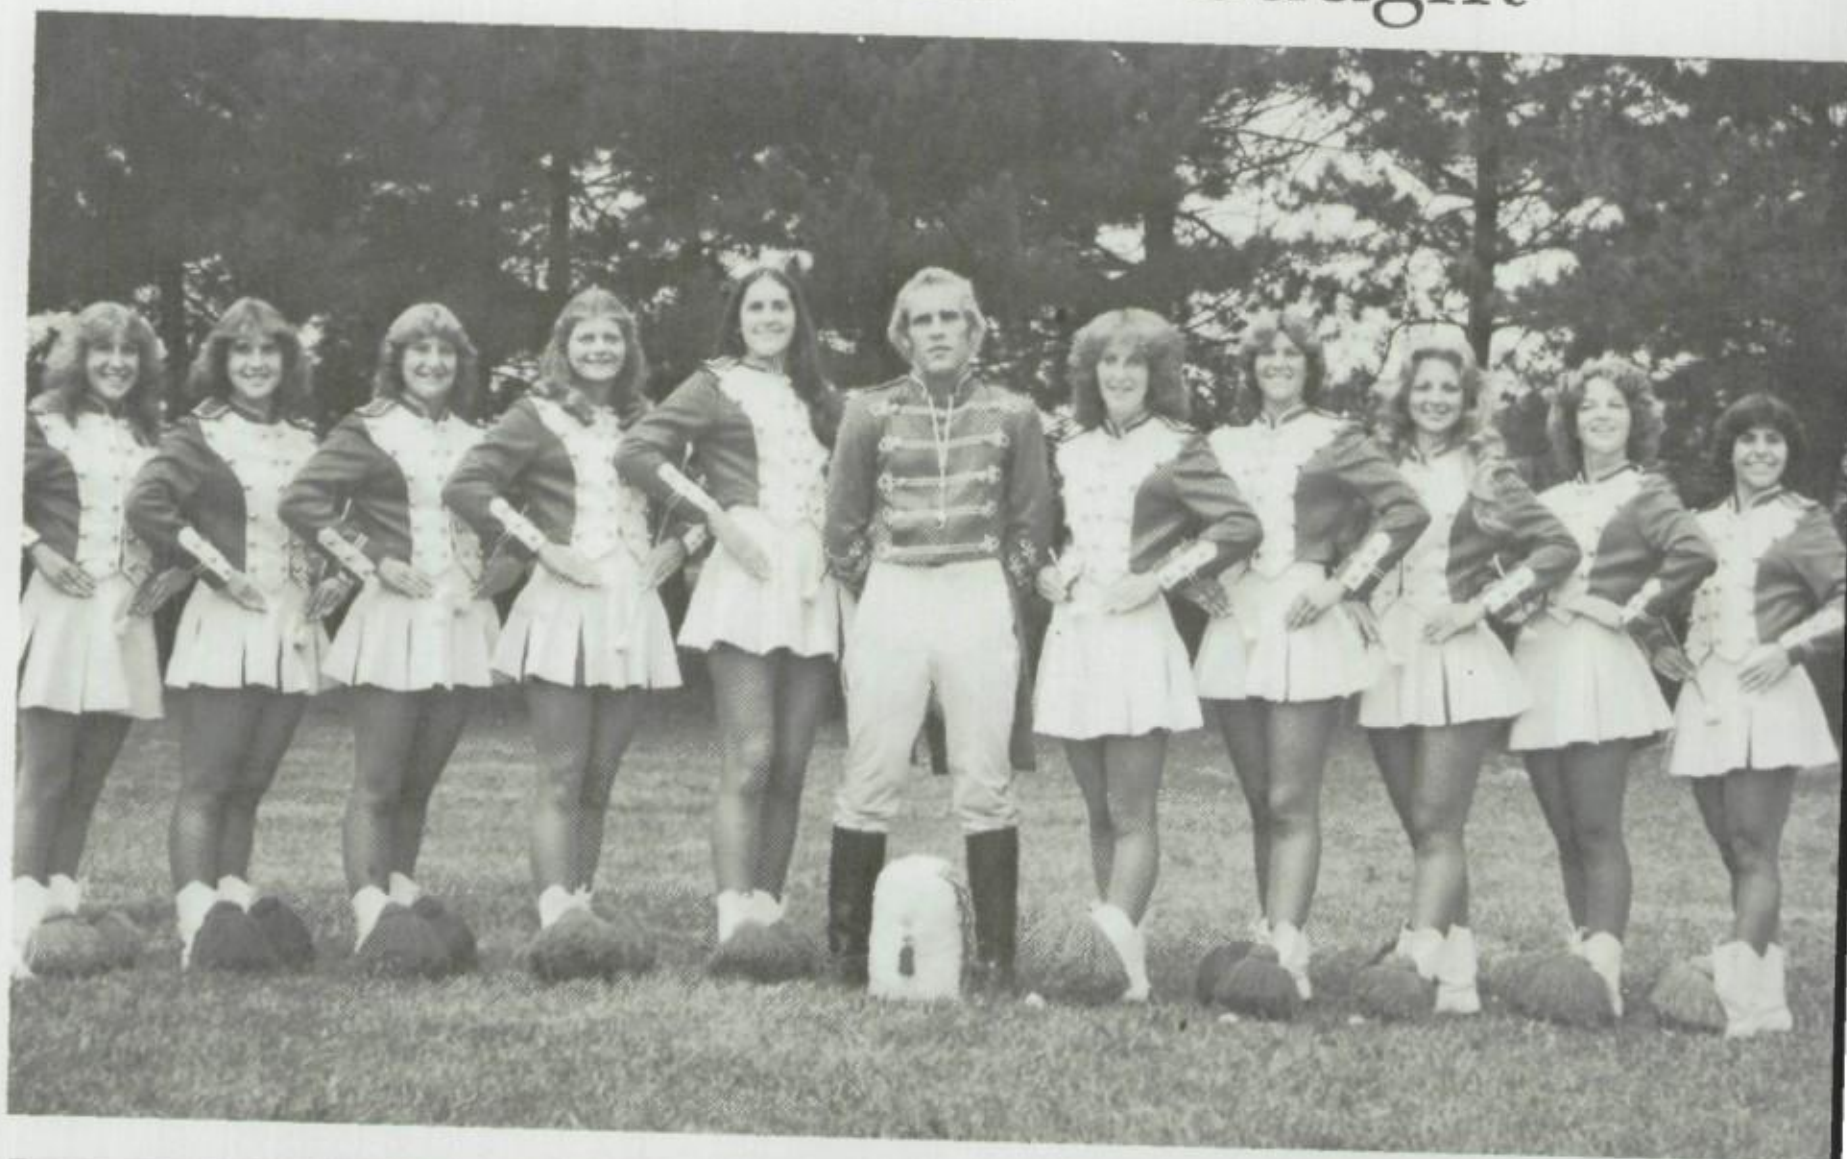

‘One More Time!’

WE CAME DOWN FROM DOVER TOWN

What has sun-kist skin, sand in its tenny-treads, and two pairs of ears (one pair unusually large)? A DHS Choir student just home from Disneyworld, of course! We departed for Florida on March 20th, endured pouring rain, frequent rest stops, and 23 hours of "Dukes of Earl." After a brief and confusing stop at our hotel — Wet 'N' Wild! The next morning we made our debut at Sea World.

Our second performance, Disneyworld, was scheduled late in the afternoon on the 23rd; our determination plus the Tomorrowland state combined to produce a superb presentation.

The trip was funded through candy and bake sales, a paper drive, and topped off by a successful auction. The Choir Parents Organization was an invaluable source of support and assistance to our efforts.

Far left: a jubilant Mr. Heck poses with one of Sea World's many attractions. Below that, our "open-air" performance at Sea World. Directly left a bunch of beach bums casually hang around New Smyrna Beach. AHA! Chris Parker didn't realize that the camera's roving eye would catch her and her fiancé, Scott Thompson. To the right of them, every girl's dream castle, at Walt Disney World. Unfortunately, the handsome frog is not included.

In the upper left, a stethoscope with a large, clear, oval-shaped chest piece and a dark tube is coiled. Below it, a dental mirror with a circular head and a long, thin handle is positioned. To the right of the stethoscope, there are several small, white, rectangular pieces of paper or tape. Further right, a reflex hammer with a dark, cylindrical handle and a metal head is visible. Below the reflex hammer, a dental mirror is lying horizontally. In the lower right, a small, rectangular card with text and a signature is placed. The card has the word "ADMISSION" at the top, followed by a date "7-22-80" and a signature. The word "CLUBS" is printed in large, bold, capital letters at the bottom left of the image.

This year's Student Council earned the Ohio Association of Student Council's Honor Council Award for being an outstanding Ohio High School Council, based on leadership, community service, benefits to students, activities, and overall effectiveness. Some of the things they did to earn this award included organizing the entire spirit week for school and community, honoring senior citizens with a breakfast and program, honoring coaches and teachers with special days. They had a special "share-a-Christmas" program. In addition to many other dances and programs, they concluded the year with special noon "games" for Seniors. It was a busy year!

The All-American Kids

This year, the National Honor Society was a very active group. We held frequent meetings, and planned a variety of activities. On December 6, the New Phila NHS joined us on a field trip to Columbus where we toured COSI, the State Capitol and the French Market. The week before Christmas, we participated in an elementary classroom visitation where we read stories to the kids and passed out treats. Two days before Christmas, we donated clothes to the receiving home and to a needy family. During the basketball season, we worked at the concession stand to raise money for our fund.

On the morning of March 17, the new members of NHS were tapped. At the expense of the group, the old members honored the new members at a luncheon at Espenschied's. The following evening, the new members were inducted in a classy ceremony. Mr. Schrock was inducted as an honorary member.

To raise money we held a bake sale, and it was a big success! Finally, on May 6, we took a field trip to Stan Hywett in Akron.

While most people in Dover were braving the cold and the rain during spring vacation, a few biology heads were down in the Bahamas sunning themselves. Although it looks like we did nothing but sit, we did go out and do such things as snorkling and visiting a native Bohemian village as shown in the far right picture at the bottom. Directly right is one of our trustworthy counselors, Stu Ferbrache, giving us one of his dazzling smiles. On the opposite page at the top, all of the counselors needed a break before dinner. Next to them, we find Steve Truchly comtemplating the ground as he walks to the lodge. In the center, Linda Dreher interrupts the game of spoons to give us one of her lovely poses. At the very bottom John Peterson demonstrates the strange effect that the Bermuda triangle can have on people.

The DHS Thespians interrupted their season of plays with the winter musical, "Annie Get Your Gun." The show consisted of many familiar numbers, as "They Say It's Wonderful," "I Got The Sun in the Mornin'," and the renown, "There's No Business Like Show Business." Based partially on fact, the action revolves around the romance and adventures of sharpshooters Annie Oakley and Frank Butler. The musical, usually presented in the spring, performed for seven appreciative crowds.

The DHS Thespians opened their 1979-80 season with Neil Simon's contemporary comedy. Barefoot In the Park, the story of two young newlyweds who have just moved into their first apartment. Through their encounters with peculiar neighbors and bothersome mothers-in-law, they gain experience with the adventures and misadventures of married life. Next, they presented John Steinbeck's Of Mice and Men, a poignant story of two Depression-era migrant workers. Ironically, the latter's strength causes his destruction when he unintentionally uses it against another. Both shows played to extremely appreciative audiences.

Who did it? Was it the frail, pathetic defendant, Maxine Lowe, or the brash night-club singer, the bitter hotel manager or his Swedish maid that killed the defendant's husband? "The People Versus Maxine Lowe" gave the audience the opportunity to participate on stage by playing the jury. The tense drama, spiced with comedy, was attended by three small, but appreciative audiences.

May 30, 1980

When we took the job of editors, we wanted to make this the best book that D.H.S. had ever seen. Through our motivation and the cooperation of the SWIRL staff, this book contains many new features. We are proud of the fact that the seniors are featured in a color section that also contains "most likely to ..." candids.

We would like to thank the student body for putting up with our new ideas and unorthodox ways. If anyone was omitted in group pictures, or offended in any way, we are very sorry. With your help and cooperation, we were able to put together a beautiful book of memories that you will always cherish.

Finally, we want everyone to know what a fantastic yearbook advisor that Mr. Johnston is. He let us design the yearbook the way we wanted to, and gave us assistance when we needed it. No one can imagine all the headaches that he had because of us. If D.H.S. did not have Mr. Johnston for a yearbook advisor ... then D.H.S. would not have a yearbook!

We, the editors of the 1980 SWIRL, dedicate this book to Mr. Johnston and the class of 1980.

The Editors,
Jeff Maurer
Elaine Dalpiaz
